U.S. STEEL PLANTS IN CANADA TO BE GREATLY ENLARGED

Tariff Increases Result in Decision to Improve and Expand Factories Immediately—Other Large Companies in U.S. Contemplating Manufacturing in the Dominion

Duties Will Aid Employment Here; Hard Blow to American Industry

NEW YORK, June 4.—The Herald-Tribune says today: "The improvement and expansion of Canadian properties of the United States Steel Corporation, started some months ago in anticipation of an increase in Canada's import duties on finished steel products, will be carried out promptly now that the tariff increases have materialized, it was indicated yesterday.

"The Bennett Budget provides for a new charge of $7 a ton on imports of steel plates and like heavy duties on other steel products.

WILL INCREASE LINES

"United States Steel's Canadian properties at Ojibway, Ont., will be supplemented by an additional steel-making unit, which, as in the case of the older works, will draw its ore supplies from the corporation's mines in the Lake Superior region. It is believed the expansions will entail the addition of a number of products. Canadian Steel Corporation, Ltd., produces chiefly wire and wire products. Canadian Bridge Company, Ltd., another United States Steel subsidiary in Canada, has a plant at Walkerville, Ont.

OTHERS PLAN EXPANSION

"Unofficial reports in steel circles yesterday were that other large steel companies in the United States are contemplating the establishment of manufacturing plants in Canada in order to retain their markets there. In 1930 sales of iron and steel products by the United States to Canada totaled approximately $195,000,000, according to the Canadian Trade Commission. Total United States exports to the Dominion last year were $653,690,776."

HITS U.S. LABOR

WASHINGTON, June 3 (CP). — Tariff war adds substantially to unemployment in this country, Representative J. W. Collier, Democrat, Mississippi, commenting on the new Canadian tariff, asserted today.

"One of the worst effects of this tariff war—for that is what it is," he said, "is its effect on labor. It adds substantially to unemployment in this country. As long as we continued to pursue a half-decent tariff policy the Canadian people were content to buy automobiles, farm machinery and other commodities from this country. Now these things will be produced in Canada and American labor will remain idle.

"Our foreign trade has been dealt some serious blows, but none more serious than by Canada. At the rate it is vanishing, in a few years we won't have a single substantial foreign market for our surplus production."

PICNIC TURNS INTO TRAGEDY

Three Hazelmere Children Drowned When Wading at Crescent Beach

VANCOUVER, June 3 (CP).—A happy school picnic turned into tragedy at Crescent Beach, about twenty miles south of here, this afternoon, when three children were drowned while wading in the waters of Mud Bay.

The dead are: Julia Newcombe, sixteen; Fred Bellcoff, fifteen, and Marice Bennett, twelve. The bodies had not been recovered at a late hour tonight. All three lived at Hazelmere, a town in the Fraser Valley. A fourth child, Eva Granzel, was rescued.

The victims, with other school children, were enjoying a picnic in celebration of the King's birthday. After luncheon the party of four entered the water, and were wading when they suddenly stepped into deep water. The Granzel girl was rescued by companions in a boat, but the other three were speedily swept beyond their depth.

TWO ARE KILLED IN STREET RIOT

By WILLIAM H. FORT
(Copyright, 1931, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service)

HAVANA, June 3.—A small-sized riot occurred in downtown Havana last night. So far as can be learned it had nothing to do with the political situation and was entirely a private affair, although when everything was over there were two dead and three were wounded.

The disturbance occurred on a busy street two blocks from the centre of town. Asuncion Oterox Careno, a young Cuban girl, was having an argument with her sweetheart, Antonio Romero, a Cuban soldier, when a police car came along and one of the police in the car interfered.

There was an exchange of bullets between police and the soldier. Quickly a crowd gathered and friends of the soldier began firing. The exchange of shots lasted for several minutes, and when the smoke had blown away the girl and one onlooker were dead and three, including one of the police squad, were severely injured.

RED ARMIES ON WARPATH

Chinese Flee by Thousands From Homes in Southern Kiangsi Province

NATIONALIST TROOPS JOINING CANTONESE

SHANGHAI, June 3 (AP).—Fifty thousand fled from their homes in Southern Kiangsi Province tonight before Red armies which have scoured the province.

Hundreds of children were reported left dead in roadways by the fleeing populace.

Leaving areas long despoiled by Reds and bandits, scenes of looting, burning and massacre, the multitude fled toward Kwangtung Province, hoping to reach comparative safety near Canton.

The flight was precipitated by the reported withdrawal into Kwangtung of 10,000 Nationalist Government troops opposing the Communist hordes.

JOIN MALCONTENTS

The retreating troops were said to have joined Cantonese soldiers led by malcontents threatening rebellion against the Government because of dissatisfaction with its head, Chiang Kai-Shek.

Stirred by Communist and bandit outrages in Kiangsi and several other provinces, Chiang Kai-Shek was said by the Government's Kuomin News Agency to have decided to take personal command of troops who have accomplished little in many months of campaign against outlaw armies.

CHILDREN DIE IN FIRE

GREENSBURG, Pa., June 3 (AP). —Three children set a barn afire and burned to death in it near New Alexandria today. They were playing in the hay mow with matches.

Million Persons See Cameronian Capture Epsom Turf Classic

Favorite Wins Derby Handily With Orpen Second and Sandwich Third—King, Queen and Members of Royal Family Attend Great Race

EPSOM DOWNS, June 3 (CP).—Sunshine and smiles spread over the broad face of historic Epsom Downs as Cameronian, the warm public favorite, won the one hundred and forty-eighth running of the Epsom Derby today.

Cameronian, racing like a champion and finishing with a burst of speed that mocked his challengers, finished three-quarters of a length in front of Orpen, with Sandwich third, the same distance back of Orpen.

HUGE CROWD ATTENDS

Twenty-five of the best three-year-olds started in the classic, running over the difficult mile-and-a-half course. The mighty roar that thundered from the throats of close to 1,000,000 persons when the good colt won his race was echoed all over the world.

The very hills seemed to tremble with the force of the shout, "Cameronian." Even the bookmakers were not too disgruntled, for most of them got back from the sweepstakes what they lost on the horse, one firm having substantial shares

Hon. J. Hinchliffe Completes Detailed Survey of Schools

Minister of Education Returns With Concrete Findings After Study of Teaching Conditions in B.C.—Judge to Head Committee

PREPARED to recommend a plan which, without fixing teachers' salaries, would serve as a basis on which study of the salary question could be logically furthered, Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe, Minister of Education, has returned to the city after a detailed inspection of assisted school areas in many parts of the province.

Mr. Hinchliffe conversed with scores of teachers, studied their problems at first hand, and has returned with a mass of detailed information that he can lay before the special committee which will be shortly appointed to advise the Province on the whole question.

STANDARDIZED BASIS

Mr. Hinchliffe made it abundantly clear that he does not propose that any single contract now enjoyed by any teachers in the province will be interfered with, and that in no case will the salaries to be suggested for those now employed be less than those paid as at September, 1930. The standardized basis, which would incorporate four zones in the province and compensate for local conditions in each case, will be addressed to new contracts and engagements of the future.

His next move, the Minister of Education stated, would be to lay before representatives of the teachers the plan which he has evolved after an extensive study of conditions in assisted school areas, which come wholly under the jurisdiction of the Province. This proportion covers roughly 10 per cent of the entire school areas in British Columbia, and if his plan is concurred in by the Teachers' Federation, it would serve as a basis for discussion of the larger problem of salaries in the entire school system.

Mr. Hinchliffe made it plain that he is not prepared to recommend at what level salaries be fixed, but solely a system whereby the many elements which go into the make-up of a just return for services rendered may be estimated and gauged.

RELATIONS WITH JAPAN CORDIAL

British Ambassador Visits Ottawa On Way to Post In Orient

OTTAWA, June 3.—Relations between Great Britain and Japan are of the happiest nature, observed Sir Francis Lindley, G.C.M.G., newly-appointed British Ambassador to Tokio, who arrived in Ottawa today for a five-day visit.

He is the guest of Sir William Clark, British High Commissioner to Canada, and Lady Clark, and leaves for Toronto Sunday night en route to the Orient.

Among those at the station to greet Sir Francis was Hon. Herbert Marler, Canadian Minister to Japan, who is in Canada for an extended holiday.

Since the new British Embassy at Tokio is not quite completed and Sir Francis' furniture has not arrived there from Lisbon, where he has served as British Ambassador for the past four years, Sir Francis will use the Canadian minister's residence, which has been loaned him by Mr. Marler for two or three months.

MAYOR GIVES B.C. HISTORY

Addresses Delegates at Canadian Manufacturers' Annual Dinner

TELLS VISITORS OF WESTERN SEABOARD

In a colorful address, replete with historic anecdotes and which might readily be classed as a tabloid recital of traditional British Columbia because it dealt mainly with the romance of the rugged coast of the Pacific, Mayor Herbert Anscomb entertained the delegates and guests of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association at the annual dinner of the association held last night in the ballroom of the Empress Hotel, with an epic of after-dinner speaking.

"The history of Vancouver Island and the Province of British Columbia is linked with the greatest of British explorers of all time, renowned Spanish seamen, Russians and kindred peoples of the North and legends of men from Asia," said His Worship, in the opening of his address, in which he also recited a portion of the history of earliest Canada. His discourse on the origin of the names of many of the known places in British Columbia must have been exceedingly interesting to the delegates from Eastern Canada.

EARLY EPISODES

Mayor Anscomb told the visitors of the founding of the Capital City of British Columbia, the selection of the site by James Douglas, afterwards Sir James, as far back as 1841, the coming of the vanguard of hardy pioneers and adventurers and the slow, but gradual rise of the village on the Island to the stately city of today. The early gold strikes of 1860 in the Cariboo formed a piquant tale for the romantic taste of the dinner guests.

His Worship outlined the successes and the failures of the "prospects," the millions gained and the millions lost; the struggle of man against the elements of nature and

DECLARATION OF WAR MADE BY IL DUCE

Mussolini to Combat Anti-Fascism in Italy "Under Whatever Banner"

ARRESTS OF SEVERAL CATHOLICS REPORTED

Pope Says Discontent of Devil Sign "We Are Doing Some Good"

ROME, June 3 (AP).—Premier Mussolini today declared war on anti-Fascism in Italy, "under whatever banner," and, according to news from the Vatican, at least one of the Catholic Action Society leaders was under arrest, an attorney named Corsanego. It was said he probably would soon be on his way to political exile on the Island of Lipari.

Other reports said a dozen of the Catholic Action leaders had been arrested in various cities. It was said that they were all men who had opposed Fascism previously.

AT SPECIAL MEETING

Premier Mussolini's "declaration of war" against anti-Fascists was made at a special meeting of a small body of Fascist leaders which formed the directorate of the party. The Premier presided at the meeting, and it was said he definitely mentioned the Catholic Action Society.

Orders were issued to 9,000 Fascist groups in Italy, with more than 1,000,000 active members, to be guided by the thought that Fascism "is firmly determined not to permit whatever remained of anti-Fascism."

RIDICULOUS ACCUSATION

It was "ridiculous," the Pope said, that anyone should accuse organizations of Catholic young women of engaging in politics, and equally ridiculous to lay the same charges against organizations of Catholic young men which, in the past few years, have given 5,400 priests to the church.

"There is, however, this consolation," he said. "If the devil has not been tranquil, but has shown himself discontented, it is a certain sign that we are doing some good."

Sends Message Of Greeting to His Majesty

OTTAWA, June 3 (CP).—On behalf of the Canadian people, His Excellency the Governor-General today dispatched a message of congratulation to King George on the occasion of His Majesty's sixty-sixth birthday. In his reply, King George expressed his pleasure at receiving birthday greetings.

The Earl of Bessborough's cablegram read: "With my humble duty, I beg to convey the most loyal congratulations of all Your Majesty's subjects in the Dominion of Canada on the occasion of Your Majesty's birthday."

The King's reply was as follows: "Please convey to the people of Canada my grateful thanks for their loyal congratulations, which I have received with much pleasure."

Victoria Real Estate Board Members Delighted With Gulf Island Visit

Members of the Victoria Real Estate Board, together with a number of friends, totaling in all about fifty residents of Victoria, returned last evening from a tour of Salt Spring Island, delighted with the opportunities which are afforded for spending an outing at the Gulf Island.

To many it was their first trip to Salt Spring, while to the majority the tour included many points which they had not visited before. A hearty reception was accorded the visitors by residents of the island, and the mutual advantages of becoming better acquainted augured well for the future relations between Salt Spring and Victoria City.

CONSERVATIVES AFFIRM FAITH IN, AND LOYALTY TO, PREMIER

Victoria Central Executive Unanimously Expresses Its Complete Confidence in Hon. S. F. Tolmie, and Forwards Largely Signed Letter of Appreciation of His Endeavors for Province

Greatest Tribute Paid to Any Political Party Head

Declares There Exists No Necessity for a Convention at Suggested by Isolated Groups and Applauds Leader's Determination to Deal With Strong Hand With Political Malcontents

SPEAKING the official voice of conservatism in Victoria, the central executive of the Victoria Conservative Association last night reaffirmed in no uncertain terms its unbounded faith in Premier Tolmie, and its high appreciation of the able services he had rendered personally to the party, and publicly to the people of British Columbia. Enthusiastic applause greeted the passage of a unanimous resolution which authorized the sending of a signed letter to Dr. Tolmie embodying the warmest endorsation of his actions since he was appointed leader of the party, and elected to head the Government.

The meeting also went unanimously on record as seeing no necessity for a convention at this time. Scores of signatures were appended at the meeting to the letter of appreciation to Dr. Tolmie, and many more were added before the testimonial went forward.

The action of the Victoria central executive is a complete answer, in so far as Victoria is concerned, to suggestions of dissension within the party. No more enthusiastic support could have been afforded to any leader than was vouchsafed at the meeting to Dr. Tolmie.

LETTER TO PREMIER

The letter introduced by W. C. Winkel to Premier Tolmie, read as follows:

"The central executive of the Conservative Association of the city of Victoria wishes to express its loyalty. This executive is conscious of the untiring and heroic efforts of our Provincial Premier in the great task of remoulding the administration, and in formulating a wise policy for the upbuilding and assurance of the future development of our province. It realizes the magnitude of the varied difficulties, and is fully conscious of obstructions which might readily tend to discourage the most audacious leader.

"The central executive of the Conservative Association of the city of Victoria is therefore, at this time, particularly anxious to indicate to you our most sincere admiration of the man who voluntarily assumed this great task.

PROUD OF LEADER

"Having in mind those actions already credited to your untiring efforts for the general good of this Canada of ours, for this province of which we are justly so proud, and our city of Victoria, we feel that we must give expression to the feelings of pride we have in having you as our leader.

"We are fully confident that in your person, the Province of British Columbia is possessed of a man in Police found Doukhobors wandering through different parts of the town after midnight last night. Several in a group were found at 2 a.m. by Constable Laird. All schools and public buildings were inspected every hour during the night, as depredations were feared in police circles. These are the developments in connection with the burning of the Presbyterian Church and firing of two schools Monday night.

Premier Voices Faith In Future of Province

Hon. S. F. Tolmie Tells Delegates to Canadian Manufacturers' Convention of Agricultural and Industrial Possibilities of British Columbia

WHATEVER doubts Eastern Canadians may have entertained concerning the agricultural and industrial possibilities of the Province of British Columbia, they were definitely dispelled by Premier S. F. Tolmie last night, when he addressed the delegates of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association at their annual dinner in the ballroom of the Empress Hotel, at which he was a guest of honor.

"I see every reason for faith in the future of British Columbia. She is the natural outlet to the great world centre of the Orient, besides being the Orient's nearest gateway to the markets of North America. With a prodigal abundance of the very fundamentals, upon which industry lives and thrives, with fine industrial sites, a superb industrial climate, many millions of acres of rich soil, transcontinental railroads, deep harbors and ice-free ports to which resort the shipping of the Seven Seas, British Columbia's future is assured, her progress and expansion inevitable."

The above reference to the ability of the province to assume its place among the banner provinces of the Dominion was but one of the many occurring in the Premier's informative speech.

NATIONAL PROBLEMS

Commencing his address with pointed remarks concerning national problems, a review of the business and industrial situation in the Dominion and elsewhere, with a statement or two concerning the future outlook, Dr. Tolmie declared: "We have had a good scare. We are now applying Aberdonian methods in handling our money and damming the streams of currency when we should leave it free to flow through channels of productivity. We are suffering from a headache after the spree and, perhaps, are inclined to look on the situation with the pessimistic eye of the

GIVES CAUSE OF PREFERENCE CUT

H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, Wires Reason for New Zealand Action

"Canada, through its Government, is most anxious to arrive at an amicable agreement with New Zealand and entertains every hope that this will be achieved in the near future," it was stated in a telegram from Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, read to the convention of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association yesterday.

The telegram added:

"The present situation arises out of the fact that we never had an agreement with New Zealand, merely an extension of another agreement or order-in-council, which order-in-council was rescinded in April of last year. We have been in touch with New Zealand during recent months and purpose continuing our negotiations."

Mr. Stevens' telegram was in reply to one from the convention asking that the Government do what it could in connection with the withdrawal by New Zealand of the British preference from Canadian goods.

ONTARIO FLYER KILLED BY FALL

Was Making First Jump From Plane—Parachute Fails to Open

OWEN SOUND, Ont., June 3 (CP).—While hundreds of horrified spectators watched from below, Chester Beer, twenty-one-year-old student flyer, of Owen Sound, plunged to his death at Chesley, Ont., today, from a height of 2,000 feet when his parachute failed to open.

Beer had undertaken to make an exhibition parachute jump as a feature event of Chesley holiday celebration. It was his first attempt as a parachute jumper, although he had flown at Camp Borden and Winnipeg.

CRASHES THROUGH ROOF

The pilot of the plane, L. Wallace, nosed the machine to the required altitude and as he manoeuvred the craft over the field, young Beer took off into space. He dropped like a plummet, his body crashing through the roof of a woodwork factory. The youth's body struck with such terrific impact that a four-inch iron pipe was severed where he crashed through the building. When picked up the body was mangled almost beyond recognition.

SEES $25,000,000 LESS IN EXPORTS

WASHINGTON, June 3 (AP).—Assistant-Secretary Klein, of the Commerce Department, today declared that the new Canadian tariff imperils approximately $20,000,000 of American exports.

The figure represents slightly less than 4 per cent of American exports to Canada in 1930, he said.

"Canada," he added, "is obviously and quite naturally putting herself in a favorable position in preparation for conference for reciprocal tariff amongst the British Dominions next Fall."

Suggests Delegation From Province Visit World's Trade Marts

F. C. Brown, Chairman of British Columbia Division of Canadian Manufacturers, Gives Advice to Delegates—Presents Report to Convention Here

Reduction of working hours in manufacturing and industrial plants in Canada, the establishment of supervised camps for the care of men temporarily out of work, and the advisability of sending fully accredited manufacturing men to New Zealand and the Far East to stimulate trade and trade agreements, were some of the items contained in the report of the British Columbia division submitted to the delegates of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association here in the Empress Hotel.

TRADE DELEGATIONS

The report was given by F. C. Brown, division chairman, and was most comprehensive and instructive. It contained many matters of interest to the people of the province, as well as to the delegates assembled in convention here.

Mr. Brown's suggestion concerning New Zealand and the Far East was made from the floor of the convention and followed his announcement concerning the cancellation of the New Zealand preferences.

Mr. Brown intimated it was little use sending a representation to foreign countries from chambers of commerce, or other bodies, not directly connected with the manufacturing trade in the Dominion.

UNEMPLOYED CAMPS

The speaker favored the establishment of the camps for the unemployed where men could be housed and kept under discipline instead of being allowed to wander around the streets of towns and cities. Useful work, he said, could be found for many of them and they would not be losing their self-respect by being placed upon the country for their support.

In his report, Mr. Brown referred to the basic industries of the province and made special mention of the fishing. "Our fishing industry last year produced 53 per cent of the value of the entire fishing industry of the Dominion, and there is no suggestion of the depletion of the salmon, herring or pilchards; in fact, those in a position to speak with knowledge have stated that our salmon fisheries are capable of producing easily twice the record pack of 1930, if market conditions were such as to ensure a profit on the finished product, so that with the return of normal conditions and with improved markets at home and abroad, we have no fear but that our fisheries will regain their leading position among the industries of Canada."

LUMBERING INDUSTRY

With regard to the lumbering industry, Mr. Brown's report stated:

"In the case of Australia we are living in the hope that very shortly we may learn of the introduction in the Commonwealth and the Dominion parliaments of legislation which will not only continue the preference we already enjoy on our paper and fish in Australia, but which will extend to us a preference on lumber.'

"It is true," the report states, "that Australia is not buying much lumber at the present moment from any source, but having no soft woods of their own to speak of, she must normally buy a fairly large quantity, and we hope that the preference anticipated will swing that business to British Columbia."

AUSTRALIAN TREATY

"We likewise sincerely hope that the treaty with Australia, if consummated, will be followed up at not too distant a date with a similar treaty with New Zealand. Since the termination last October of the trade agreement existing with New Zealand, our trade with this sister Dominion has fallen off rapidly. This is most unfortunate for the whole of Canada because of the wide variety of manufactured products she has been buying over a long period. It is most important in the interests of our export trade that a new agreement with New Zealand be consummated in the very near future. This sister Dominion has always shown a strong friendship for Canada and a preference for Canadian goods, as shown by imports amounting to nineteen millions of dollars for the fiscal year ending 1930.

SURVEYS FOR TRADE

"We never lose an oportunity of emphasizing the importance of the heads of Canadian industries visiting these countries for the purpose of making personal surveys of the opportunities for trade. Canada maintains trade commissioners of high standing at Shanghai and Tokio, the services of whom should be utilized to a much greater extent.

"We cannot help but feel that a great future for trade lies in the Orient and that manufacturers should take advantage of this present quiet period in Canada to make a survey of these foreign markets. At a time like this when commodity prices are down every opportunity should be made to get a foothold in foreign fields. The quiet period can be capitalized to advantage in any case, for carrying out improvements in methods of production and cultivating new markets.

UNEMPLOYMENT

"This remains a serious problem in British Columbia as well as other parts of Canada, and we are of the opinion that this association might, with profit, to Canada as a whole, take some definite lead in tackling the problem.

"A matter of such vital importance to employers should not be left too much for settlement by Provincial or the Federal Governments. Large sums of money voted for relief are bound to result in a greater burden on industries by way of taxation. The question of instituting shorter hours in all industries to bridge the present period is worth careful investigation. Legislation along these lines is not recommended, but if the members of this association could take the lead a large percentage of Canadian industries would adopt this plan. A few manufacturers are already spreading available work among the largest possible number, but if all could operate on the principal that it is better to employ 100 men for five hours than fifty men for ten, this present national problem would be in a measure solved.

BRIGHTER FUTURE

"In British Columbia we feel that a general improvement in most industries is not far off, and would soon be in evidence, if the feeling of fear, that has entered into a large section of our people, could be dispelled. Fear is eating into the heart of progress, and the remedy, to my mind, lies in greater faith in our ability to win through, and in courage and resourcefulness. If these attributes were shown on the part of all industries and institutions, brighter and better conditions would soon result. British Columbia's population is increasing and with it an ever increasing buying power for practically all commodities, and her favorable geographical location affords greater opportunities for expansion of existing industries and the location of new ones."

LAPSES INTO COMA

AMMANAN, Transjordania, June 3 (AP).—Former King Hussein of the Hedjas, who has been seriously ill for months, lapsed into coma today, but hope for his recovery has not been abandoned. Three of his sons are at the bedside. King Feisal of Irak, another son, is in Bagdad.

Young Boy Loses Life in Effort To Save Sister

BROADVIEW, Sask., June 3.—A gallant rescue effort on the part of Martin Muscovey, eleven-year-old son of Kaiser Muscovey, farmer, residing two miles south of Oakshella, cost him his life when he attempted to save his nine-year-old sister, Rose, from drowning this afternoon when she slipped into deep water in a slough near the children's home.

DATE IS SET FOR OPENING

Spanish National Assembly to Meet July 14—Newspapers to Resume

WILL NOT PROSECUTE THEIR FORMER KING

MADRID, June 3 (AP).—The Cabinet tonight issued a decree calling the opening of the National Assembly for July 14.

All newspapers which have been suspended by the Government, including the powerful Monarchist organ in Madrid, will be permitted to resume publication Thursday, thus giving complete freedom of the press during the campaign.

The newspaper Heraldo tonight published an interview with President Alcala Zamora in which he was quoted as saying the Cabinet would formally resign its powers to the National Assembly as soon as it convened, giving the members of the assembly a free hand in writing the new constitution.

WILL NOT PROSECUTE

The Cabinet announced tonight it had abandoned the attempt to prosecute former King Alfonso and the members of the former Cabinet of General Primo de Rivera, and would leave the whole matter for the National Assembly, which, it said, alone has the power to conduct such an investigation.

The plan that had been proposed was to hold Alfonso and the Rivera ministers responsible for the results of the Rivera dictatorship.

Minister of the Interior Mauro said tonight that no Spanish ambassador to the Vatican would be named until the assembly decides the question of the future relations of the Government with the Holy See.

MAYOR GIVES B.C. HISTORY

the part gold played in the rejuvenation of Victoria, and its influence on the commercial life of the village. He dealt sparingly with the days of the Klondike.

The Mayor referred to another interesting period in the life of Victoria of which the British navy formed the centerpiece. He told the delegates of the importance of the naval base of Esquimalt when thousands of bluejackets walked the streets. "The port of Victoria was the only port in the Empire where the two battleships, the Repulse and the Hood, could dock side by side. It was a thrilling sight," said the Mayor.

WESTERN SEABOARD

Leaving the historical phase, Mayor Anscomb gave the Easterners some idea of the magnitude of the possibilities of the Western seaboard of Canada. He said:

"Canada, with her relatively small population and her enormous capacity for production of certain products, is dependent upon her export trade for her prosperity. There are markets bordering upon the Pacific which should be developed and can be developed to Canada's advantage, namely, South America, Australia, China and Japan. No country has so direct and easy access to such an enormous population as has Western Canada. Water transportation is the easiest of all transportation, and in British Columbia we can manufacture goods alongside wharves which will accommodate any ship afloat. We have a superabundance of raw material, cheap fuel and skilled labor."

"FLAG FOLLOWS TRADE"

"It is the manufacturers and industries of a nation which play the largest part in its development. There is an old saying that 'Trade follows the flag.' It might be more correct sometimes to say that 'The flag follows trade.' At least that is so in so far as many of the links in the chain of the British Empire is concerned. It is natural, therefore, when anything happens to disturb the usual flow of trade, with its resulting effect on unemployment, that we should look to our industrial leaders and manufacturers for advice. It seems that during any period of depression we are all inclined to be too pessimistic.

"It is undoubtedly true that the world has not yet recovered from the effects of the Great War, or at least, we are still prone to charge all our evil conditions to the war period.

"No matter what our friends to the south may feel about it, the fact remains that the influence of Great Britain on world affairs is still a powerful one, and in fact a controlling one, and weighed down as she is with colossal war debts, it is hardly to be wondered at that British manufacturers, struggling under a burden of taxation which no other people would bear with so little complaint and which no other people would pay, are taking a long time to readjust themselves.

"However, as Shakespeare tells us (Macbeth) 'Come what may—Time and the hour runs through the roughest day.'

TRADE REVIVAL NEEDED

"As soon as British trade begins to revive such revival will have an immediate beneficial effect the world over, and you can depend upon it, Great Britain and every other unit in our vast Empire will 'come back' before very long, stronger than ever.

"Canada's industrial position in the British Empire is an extremely important one. This Dominion is considered as the most highly industrialised young country in the world. We have an abundant supply of raw material of the highest quality and many of our industries have built up a large volume of foreign business in countries where international competition is to be met, which is the highest test to which our products could be put.

RULE MEN'S WORLD

"Canadian wheat for example is considered the finest product in the world and it follows that her flour is equally superior. Nearly seventy years ago, Richard Jeffries, a well-known essayist of his time, wrote these words with reference to wheat:

"These little grains are not very heavy as they lie in the palm, but they are a ponderous weight that rules men's world. Wherever they are, there is Empire. Could Imperial Rome only have grown sufficient wheat in Italy to have fed her legions, Caesar would still be master of three-fourths of the earth. Rome is no more and the lords of the world are they who have mastership of wheat.'

Mr. President, if there is a grain of truth in these words, then surely Canada is destined to have a great future," concluded Mayor Anscomb, amid prolonged applause.

MANUFACTURERS' PARLEY CLOSES

Final Business Meeting of Jubilee Conference in City Held—Alberta Requests New Status

The business sessions of the Diamond Jubilee convention of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association here were concluded at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, with the adoption of the report of the resolutions committee and the election of officers for the coming association year.

Delegates from Eastern Canada and the Mainland, who have attended the sessions of the conference which opened last Monday morning, are leaving Victoria at 8:30 o'clock this morning for their homes.

Yesterday's final business session was taken up with consideration of various matters and many items were disposed of in the four-hour meeting. The only unforeseen development of the convention was the last-minute appeal from the Alberta group to the convention to elevate their branch office to the status of a division. No decision was given because, retiring President Elmer Davis said, it involved a question of policy which could not be decided at the meeting just concluded. It was arranged, however, to hold a meeting in Edmonton on June 8, when the officers will meet with representatives of the Alberta branch.

Prior to adjournment, the association extended its thanks to the officers and to all those who had assisted the delegates and provided for their comfort. Mr. Davis handed over the gavel of office to the new president, W. H. Miner, as the final gesture of the convention.

HON. J. HINCLIFFE COMPLETES DETAILED SURVEY OF SCHOOLS

Evaluation of these services would be the specific mission of the special committee, over which, he stated, he will ask a member of the British Columbia judiciary to act as chairman. The committee will be fully representative.

ASSISTED SCHOOLS

In the assisted school areas, where the Province pays all but one mill of the cost of teachers' salaries, there are 551 schools with 652 teachers and 11,096 pupils. The provincial grant to these schools in 1931 is $759,000, ratified by the last session of the Legislature.

As there are 3,839 teachers in the public, superior and high schools of the province, and 111,117 pupils, as at June, 1930, the assisted school districts represent approximately 10 per cent of the whole school structure. In an exhaustive survey of this section, Mr. Hinchliffe found many anomalies in the matter of salary, and in general, that though efforts had been made in the past to compensate teachers for the more isolated localities with higher living costs, changing conditions had brought great unevenness in this regard.

NO EASY TASK

"My visit through these school districts has confirmed by previous view of the question, and has made me realize that there are teachers who have a very hard job, and pupils who face abnormal difficulties in the way of transportation. I came across teachers in one-room schools in the North who were called on to teach many different grades, training pupils of widely different mental capacities," Mr. Hinchliffe stated.

"I was reminded again of one instance that I witnessed for myself last Summer, where at a school near Kelowna there were fifty children in a one-roomed school, falling into eight grades, and thinking in four different languages. These children had to learn English first, before they could be taught at all. A Victoria girl was tackling the job, and making good at it, too! That was the Benvoulin School, outside Kelowna, though the number of students has since been reduced to forty-four. It is a rural school, and not in the class of assisted schools with which I have particularly concerned myself on this last trip," Mr. Hinchliffe stated.

POINTS OF DIFFERENCE

Contrasting this instance with other one-roomed schools where there were from six to nine pupils and correspondingly fewer grades, he made his first point, that there was a great difference between the mission of teaching as applied at different schools, under widely diverse conditions.

Mr. Hinchliffe's second point turned on differences due to locality, which include factors relating to the cost of living and economic conditions generally. Food, clothing, rents, housing and many other matters vary widely in cost directly with the distance from established large centres, depending on transportation and other charges.

The third point of difference lay, he said, in the class of school, there being one, two and more-roomed schools, involving elementary, superior (which is the link between elementary and high schools), and country high schools. Teachers at one-room schools were teachers and principals combined. They might be called on to teach only one grade, or eight grades, as in one instance. At two-room schools there was a supervising teacher and an assistant teacher, both with different duties. At superior schools came the necessity of a higher standard of teaching qualifications, another element in the case; while at high schools yet other factors entered into the consideration of the services rendered, and by whom.

SALARIES VARIED

Salaries in the assisted school areas ranged widely, he continued, some being as low as $900 per annum, and some as high as $1,320, with all variations between. In some cases the children in these schools suffered from a too-frequent change of teachers, spending much time in becoming accustomed to each new instructor. It appeared likely that the Province would have to extend its present policy of encouraging teachers in these areas to remain at their schools, with the encouragement of salary increases which they could ascertain and know in advance of taking the posts, he said.

The minister said he was prepared to recommend in further consideration of the subject that there be a basic salary struck in the four zones suggested. Added to this basic salary there should be a set scale of annual increases. Teachers with more than single class responsibilities should be compensated on a uniform basis for these added duties; and where higher than usual teaching capacities were required, there should be recompense for this, too, on some established basis. Supervision and principalships, also, were factors to be considered as apart from the ordinary duties of a teacher.

FINDING A BASE

"I am trying to standardize this whole class (the assisted schools), and I want to do it in general terms, without fixing the salaries. Then I will call into consultation the heads of the teachers, to see if this plan can be feasibly applied to determination of the problem for the whole school system of the province. If this is found feasible, we will be in a position then to place before the special committee to be formed a composite case, on which they will be asked to advise as to the value of each of the basic and additional services rendered," Mr. Hinchliffe stated.

"Any schedules that may be struck as a result of this whole investigation when it is completed, must safeguard existing contracts held by existing teachers in each case; and in any event there is no desire on my part to see any reduction in the salaries paid, from those paid in September, 1930. There is no intention on the part of the Province to reduce its total liability in regard to teachers' salaries; but we do want to see established some plan that will restore equity to the case, and give fair compensation for actual services rendered," he said.

Mr. Hinchliffe secured a mass of data on his tour of the province, with particular reference to the Northern districts, furthest removed from the seat of administration, where special conditions occur that would not apply at other points. He will remain in Victoria for June and July, and will take up the whole question from the angle of his recent investigation at first hand.

West Fighting Back To Retain Grasp of World Wheat Market

Encouraging Report for Prairie Provinces Given to Canadian Manufacturers' Association—Trying Times Have Taught Farmers Economy

With courage to face their problems, but with confidence in the future, the farmers of the prairie provinces are buckling to and, with many things in their favor, hope to emerge at the end of 1931 with brighter prospects than when they entered the new year.

That was the tone of the report of the Prairie Province Division of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association submitted to the delegates in convention here at the Empress Hotel. Whilst not unmindful of the fact that many trying conditions still exist, the farmer can take some consolation in the knowledge that he is putting in his 1931 crop at about half the cost of the previous year's.

IN FIGHTING MOOD

"The West is getting a good licking, but we are not going to lay down. The Prairie Provinces are going to maintain their position of producing the best wheat in the world and supplying it to the world's markets," was one of the passages in the report.

Continuing the report, which was read by Arnold Smith, of Winnipeg, stated:

"The courageous manner in which our agricultural population, under adverse circumstances, has prepared for another crop, should be a very definite corrective to those fatalists who appear to think that our economic fabric is irretrievably damaged and furnishes a splendid example to our membership. Appreciating the interdependence of manufacturing and agriculture and realising that the very social and material welfare of Canada depends upon the success of the agriculturist, it is very gratifying that our own association was the first commercial organization to endorse governmental assistance to agriculture, at a time when that assistance was sorely needed."

"The tide of economic depression which has during the past two years affected the whole world has not, I can assure you, left the Prairie Provinces of Canada unscathed. The drastic decline in the price of basic commodities and the failure of our export markets for agricultural products, chiefly wheat, have been most unfavorable factors and have curtailed greatly the buying power of our public. The curtailment of credit attendant upon present conditions has aggravated the situation. This does not mean, however, that business, to use the old expression, has all gone to pot on the Prairies. Such is not the case.

"It is most gratifying indeed that there has been such a satisfactory volume transacted in view of the general situation. It is quite possible that we have overexaggerated the effect of this depression, and that the consequent mental attitude of the buying public has not helped to rectify matters," Mr. Smith quoted.

OVERSEAS MARKETS

"It is more than likely that the position of our overseas markets for grain and farm produce will steadily improve. As an indication of this may I point to the fact that durum wheat, which normally sells almost ten cents a bushel below the harder Marquis variety, has lately been at a premium of eighteen to twenty cents due to the easing of import restrictions by certain European countries."

"In conclusion, may I say that the manufacturers of the Prairie Provinces have every confidence in the future. It is true that we are going through trying times, but the lessons taught by these experiences will prove invaluable in the future. If any of you had any doubts about the Prairies, I am quite confident that they have been dispelled by what you have learned from personal observations during your journey to this convention," Mr. Smith reported.

SEEKING CUT IN TAXATION COSTS

Canadian Manufacturers Urge Curtailment of Spending of Public Moneys

As indicated at the Tuesday session, the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, in annual meeting here, adopted a resolution calling upon all governments, federal, provincial and municipal, to exercise the strictest economy, and urged its members to assist and co-operate with other organizations to discourage requests to Governments for the spending of money on projects that might be deferred, without hardship.

The resolution was passed, it was stated, with a view of reducing taxation, due to indebtedness accumulated through Government complying with requests for expenditure of public moneys.

MADE-IN-CANADA

"Produced in Canada," which has been foremost in the discussions of the convention delegates, and mentioned in nearly every committee report, was accorded greater support in the passing of resolutions dealing with that matter. One resolution called for continued support of the produced-in-Canada campaign, and the other requests the Government to bring in legislation to compel foreign manufacturers to "Clearly and permanently" mark their goods before entry into Canada. Canadian manufacturers were also urged to mark their own goods so that purchasers can distinguish Canadian products from the products of other countries.

C.M.A. DIVISION REPORTS TABLED

Convention Delegates Adopt Statements of Chairman From Various Zones in Association

The Ontario Corporations Tax Act, imposing a tax of one-tenth of one per cent on the capital of all companies carrying on business in Ontario, came as a complete surprise and was exceedingly objectionable, the Ontario division report, presented by J. M. McIntosh to the convention of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association here, said.

In regard to the automobile insurance situation in Ontario the report said it was conceivable that if the Government undertakes to establish rates of insurance it must take responsibility for them. It was conceivable that under such circumstances a position of considerable embarassment might arise if insurance companies were induced to take business at unprofitable rates.

QUEBEC DIVISION

The report of the Quebec division, read by W. H. Miner, Montreal, said that "With possibly the exception of the Maritime Provinces, we, in Quebec, believe we have suffered less from the period of depression than any of the other provinces." The volume of manufacturing was very little below that of a year ago, but naturally there was a much narrower margin of profit.

"Business is more difficult to secure and we do not look forward to immediate return of good times," the report said. "We feel that the convalescent period will not be long and that gradually business will return to normal."

MARITIME REPORT

The Maritime Provinces report, read by A. L. Foster, of Saint John, said in part:

"Recent press reports indicate that in the plans for rationalization of the British steel industries, provision is being made for co-operation between the Canadian steel plants and the British Steel Export Association, in order to prevent undue encroachment by British steel manufacturers in the Canadian market in competition with Canadian mills, and to encourage the sale in Canada of the heavier lines of British steel not now produced by Canadian mills, but largely imported from the United States.

"Just what effect the United States embargo on Russian lumber and pulpwood will have on Maritime production it is difficult to forecast, but it is safe to say that it should be of advantage."

All stressed the importance and success of the "Produced-in-Canada Campaign."

"Your wife won the first prize. Why did she refuse it?"

"It was so useless—it was a workbasket."

TRADE ENVOY NEEDS POWER

Canadian Manufacturers Ask Gov't to Raise Status of Commissioners

NO STANDING GIVEN TO REPRESENTATIVE

Convinced that Canadian trade representatives in foreign countries are working under considerable handicap in that they do not possess the status to permit them to deal with Government officials or Government departments in the country to which they are posted, the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, yesterday morning, passed the following resolution:

Whereas, Canadian Government trade commissioners abroad have not sufficient status to enable them to deal with many situations which arise; and, whereas, this handicaps them in their efforts to increase Canadian trade:

Therefore, be it resolved, that the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, in annual general meeting assembled in Victoria, respectfully ask the Minister of Trade and Commerce of Canada to give consideration to improving the standing of Canadian trade commissioners, in order that they may be able to have direct communication with Governmental officials and departments of the countries to which they are accredited, and, consequently, may be in a better position to discharge their duties and to help increase Canadian trade.

President Elmer Davies explained that, under the present system, it was necessary for an accredited Canadian commissioner to seek access to Government officials through the British Embassy, which, at times, was embarrassing to the commissioner, especially when dealing with trade matters in which Britain was a competitor.

SUBMIT REPORTS ON CONVENTION

Provincial Parley of Canadian Legion Big Success, Britannia Delegates Told

Members of the Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., at their regular meeting this week, listened with interest to the reports submitted by President Thomas Dempster, Secretary S. W. Norman Saunders, W. G. Stone and H. B. Thompsett, of the recent provincial convention held at New Westminster. Each of the speakers told of the progress being made by the Legion and of the excellent work being done throughout the Dominion by its vast army of members. The delegates were thanked for the capable way in which they presented their reports.

Members were informed that the annual picnic will be held at the Willows Beach on July 1. More complete details of this event, the blue ribbon item of the year's programme, will be announced later.

President Thomas Dempster was named a member of the building trustees' board to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of P. Shadforth. The latter was forced to resign on account of ill health.

Clergymen Must Be Citizens of Country

SAN SALVADOR, June 3 (AP).—The National Assembly decreed yesterday that the governing bodies of any religion established in El Salvador, or any that may be established, must conform with the article of the constitution which limits the clergy to Central Americans by birth or Latin-Americans who attain Salvadorean citizenship.

Foreign priests now in the country are not included under the provisions of the decree, which goes into effect June 15.

What Today Means

"GEMINI."

If June 4th is your birthday the best hours for you on this date are from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m., and from 8:45 p.m. to 10:15 p.m. The danger hours are from 8 a.m. to 10:10 a.m. and from 2 p.m. to 3:50 p.m.

June 4th is a propitious day for almost everything, the stars denote that business people will find the day rich in opportunity and promotion. Social activities will be favored; while private affairs will assume a pleasing outlook. It is also a good occasion for both betrothals and marriage.

Children born on June 4th will develop quickly, both physically and intellectually. They will be persevering and ambitious. Not only are they destined to win honors at school, but they are also fated to gain much material success in life. Their dispositions will be affectionate and kind.

You, if born on June 4th, have a not altogether unjustified high regard for yourself and your opinions. Yet, there is no earthly reason why you should always belittle the efforts of others. You must learn to realise that there are other pebbles on the beach, and patting yourself on the back is not an exercise that keeps you fit. It is more liable to induce swelling of the head.

You are fairly patient, although you succeed in making others impatient. When angered, you are apt to fly into a rage, even though you know by experience that loss of self-control causes you to do and say things which you afterwards regret. Your best bet in life is, if possible, work in the country, as you are decidedly at your best when free from disturbing factors.

Although rather selfishly fond of your own companionship, you are fully alive to the attractions of the opposite sex. The signs denote that you will not marry young. It will take you a long time to make up your mind. Only after marriage, whether you be man or woman, will you begin to appreciate the fact that you are not quite so important as you were prone to believe whilst single. Success, in no small measure, awaits you when you know and feel that "there are others."

KNIGHTS OF BRUSH FOR SOAP AND PAINT ENTER INTO COMBAT

VANCOUVER, June 3.—Painters must quit shaving themselves or barbers will have to paint their shops—union or nonunion. Considerable amusement was created Tuesday night at Vancouver and New Westminster Trades and Labor Council meeting, by the report of the grievance committee over a complaint that a union barber shop had been decorated by nonunion hands. The committee chairman explained he was told somewhat indignantly by the barber who owns the shop, that "when painters lay off applying the brush and razor to their own faces, barbers might then be expected to quit painting their own places."

Grievance committee members admitted they were given something on which to ponder. No action taken.

NOT WILLING TO JOIN FEDERATION

Railroad Men Unwilling to Relinquish Jurisdiction of Long Standing

HOUSTON, Texas, June 2 (CP).—The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen in triennial convention here late today declined to join the American Federation of Labor. An invitation had been issued to the brotherhood by the Federation president, William Green.

The report of the committee on joint relations, which President A. F. Whitney said was adopted, concluded:

"Under existing conditions it appears to your committee that affiliation with the American Federation of Labor can only be effected by the relinquishment on our part of jurisdiction over classes of service which we have represented for many years, and, unless and until this condition is eliminated, we do not recommend an affiliation."

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

CANDY NOT ALTOGETHER TO BLAME FOR BAD TEETH

It is unfortunate that sugar and candy have been blamed to such a large extent for the decay of the teeth in youngsters. There is no question but that if you took a group of youngsters who ate a lot of candy and sugar, and a group who did not that there would be more cases of decay of the teeth in the sugar and candy eaters.

Now this might be taken as proof that it was the candy and sugar that caused the decay but the real truth of the matter is that youngsters that eat a lot of candy and sugar are not likely to eat enough of other foods, and of course will not eat enough of the kind of foods that make good teeth and prevent decay, that is plenty of milk and green vegetables.

Further, it must be admitted that candy and sugar will cling about the teeth more than other foods and will thus give more opportunity for acid formation there.

Thus, if there is not the lime and other mineral salts built into the teeth from the eating of green vegetables and milk and the deposits are going to be left on the enamel of the teeth which favor the growth of little organisms, then the teeth are going to be undernourished on the inside, and will have organisms attacking the enamel covering on the outside.

However, youngsters and adults also should eat an all round diet—meat, potatoes, bread and fruits, to which should be added milk and green vegetables. In adults who do not like milk or who find it constipating, the green vegetables should always be added to the diet anyway.

Candy or sugar should not be condemned or avoided, as there is no food that gives energy to the body as quickly as candy or sugar. A youngster can go out after school and play for an hour on the strength and nourishment he gets from a stick of candy.

If the parent will see that the youngster gets sugar or candy halfway between meals instead of just before meals, he will have the appetite for milk and green vegetables. In fact, many youngsters have actually learned to like spinach because they were kept hungry instead of being allowed to eat candy or pastry before meals.

The thought then is that youngsters should not be deprived of candy, as it gives the strength and pep for play.

Nowadays the sport of kings is trying to stay on the throne.—Judge.

About 400 "Hotel Greeters of America Will Arrive Here on June 18

On Thursday, June 18, 400 "Hotel Greeters of America" will visit Victoria for the day, by special boat from Vancouver, where they will hold a national three-day convention, starting June 15. The announcement was made yesterday by Fred W. M. Lowe, chairman of the convention committee, who is staying at the Dominion Hotel.

Mr. Lowe said that although the convention itself was being held in Vancouver, which holds the oldest Canadian charter of the Greeters, it must be considered a British Columbia gathering since Victoria was included in the programme. The present plans are to bring the whole convention here aboard the steamer, Princess Alice.

Mr. Lowe was one of the four delegates from Vancouver who attended the Denver City convention last year, and it was largely through his efforts that Vancouver was selected as the convention city for 1931. It was given first choice over Toronto, Seattle, Miami and Louisville. The members of the Hotel Greeters are the contact men of the hotels.

Victoria hotelmen are now busy with entertainment plans for the visitors.

NO CHANGE IN HONORS POLICY

Depression Keeps New Zealand From Making Recommendations

WELLINGTON, New Zealand, June 3 (CP).—Prime Minister G. W. Forbes stated today that the fact that the Government of New Zealand had not recommended any New Zealanders for inclusion in the King's birthday honors list did not mean there was a change in New Zealand's policy regarding honors.

The Prime Minister explained that owing to the economic depression and the Dominion's financial difficulties the present is an inappropriate time to make recommendations which could stand over until the New Year's list.

SURRENDERS TO FINISH HIS TERM

Escaped Convict Carries Out Vow Made When Shipwrecked Off Japan

OMAHA, Neb., June 3 (AP).—Charles E. Johnson, sixty-six-year-old grandfather who escaped from the Nebraska penitentiary in 1893, with seven months of a two-year term for forgery yet to serve, surrendered today.

Johnson, who returned home last week after wandering the globe for thirty-eight years as a fugitive, said that in returning he was keeping a promise made three months ago, while clinging to a rock off Japan.

Shipwrecked, he said, he vowed that, if his life were spared, he would return to Nebraska to serve out the prison time he had evaded by dropping over a wall at night.

GREAT BRITAIN AND FRANCE OPPOSED TO SILVER CONFERENCE

WASHINGTON, June 3 (AP).—Opposition by Great Britain and France to an international silver conference was said today in authoritative circles to have resulted in failure of the United States to arrange a parley.

Great Britain was opposed to the conference because of its direct interest through the silver situation in India. France opposed such action because it lacked direct interest. Participation of these two nations was considered necessary for the success of a conference.

MANUFACTURERS MAY PAY VISIT TO NEW ZEALAND NEXT YEAR

An invitation was extended to the Canadian Manufacturers' Association yesterday to send a delegation to New Zealand in an address before their convention by J. W. Collins, trade commissioner for the New Zealand Government in Canada.

Mr. Collins said he understood the association was considering the proposal in a favorable light and that plans were now being formulated for some fifty or more members to visit the sister Dominion in the Antipodean Summer of next year, leaving Vancouver on January 6 and returning about the beginning of April.

"New Zealanders," Mr. Collins said, "will warmly welcome the resumption of past trade relations with Canada, and although it is undoubted there are some difficult problems to be overcome, I fully believe that they can be, and will be, surmounted."

DO-X Forced to Postpone Flight

PORTO PRAIA, Cape Verde Islands, June 3 (AP).—The German flying boat DO-X was forced to postpone its attempt to span the South Atlantic to Brazil today when head winds forced the ship back to its buoy after it finally had succeeded in taking off. The DO-X came here last week from the vicinity of Bolama, Portuguese West Africa.

TAKING THE CENSUS

No doubt many people will be inclined to resent the number and the variety of questions being asked by enumerators in the course of the present census. Those questions are necessary and should have complete answers if the information it is desired to collect is to be exhaustive. A national stock taking is in progress. Some of the questions being asked may appear personal, but no one who is anxious that the information being collected should be complete will hesitate to answer them in the fullest possible fashion.

There are some changes in the census of the present year as compared with previous ones. There is to be a census of all business enterprises engaged in the distribution of goods. Behind this plan lies the desire to get information on the system of distribution under present economic conditions. In the count those asked what is their nationality will be entitled to say Canadian, and those so entitled come under three classes: those born in Canada who have not become aliens; British subjects who have Canadian domicile, and those naturalized under the laws of Canada who have not lost their Canadian domicile or become aliens. As well, all will be asked of their racial origin, namely, the countries from which their families came to Canada.

The point to be borne in mind is that the information to be given the enumerators will be of a confidential character. The matter to be published in the census returns will naturally omit a lot of personal information which will be in possession of the Government. At the same time it is obligatory on all to answer the questions asked, and the law provides penalties for evasive or untruthful replies. By co-operation the census can be made complete and all the information desired collected. In the aggregate it is of very great value in assisting in the task of government, and that is the attitude all should take in helping out the enumerators.

TO GOVERN MOTORING SPEEDS

Premier G. S. Henry, of Ontario, has given an indication of a policy which may be put into effect in that province if there is not a substantial reduction in the number of motoring accidents. In effect he says the time may come when cars will be so geared that they will be unable to travel more than the regulation rate. In Ontario it appears that 90 per cent of the accidents through motoring are due to speeding and cutting in. The deaths in that province last year on the road, through motor vehicles, were 500. Premier Henry says that if motorists would respect the speed laws it would be possible to reduce the number of fatalities by half in a year. He does not see much indication of such respect becoming widespread, and hence the warning that the time may come when governors may be put on all motors putting a maximum on their speed, possibly as low as forty miles an hour.

It rests with the traveling public to escape this restriction. If Ontario should set the example in new legislation it is undoubted that other provinces would speedily follow suit. Governments exist for the protection of life and property, and Provincial Legislatures have the power to regulate speed on the roads by any means which may be deemed advisable.

INCREASING BUTTER EXPORTS

Canada is beginning to regain her markets for butter. A week ago a total of 3,116 boxes of fifty-six pounds each, were exported to the British market through the port of Montreal. In three weeks exports through that port have totaled 4,729 boxes, or 264,824 pounds, as compared with no butter exports for the same period last year. The butter exports at the present time are better than they have been any time in the last six years. In all 1930 only 163 packages were exported. In 1925 Canada's export of butter to England totalled 320,404 boxes. The renewal of trade indicates that 1931 will be the best year since 1925. The price and quality of Canadian butter have again made their appeal in the British market.

Under the tariff against New Zealand butter put into force by the Bennett Government production is increasing in this country and dairymen say they are in a position to meet all demands for the export trade that is likely to offer, as well as doing their part in supplying the home market. That is exactly what has been intended by the Bennett tariff policy. It is working out just as was anticipated and Canadian industry is the gainer.

HUDSON BAY INSURANCE RATES

A flat rate of 3.5 per cent has been fixed for all cargoes to and from Hudson Bay, the rate to be in effect only from August 10 to September 30, which is regarded as the safest period for transportation by that route. This compares with a rate of one-eighth of one per cent for grain and five-eighths of one per cent for cattle to and from Montreal. It was always known that the rates from Fort Churchill via Hudson Bay to Europe would be heavy because of the risks involved. The 3.5 per cent has been fixed through negotiations of a sub-committee of the Imperial Conference with the representatives of the British underwriters.

Western members of Parliament, who were the main protagonists of the development of the Hudson Bay route, are now alarmed over the insurance rate that is to be charged. They regard it as excessive to the point of being prohibitive. That was always one of the handicaps under which navigation for commercial purposes on such a route was bound to involve. One of the arguments advanced in favor of the Hudson Bay route was that it would mean a saving of as high as seven cents a bushel in shipping charges. Now a great part of this saving is to be absorbed by the insurance rate. The probability is that it will be impossible to obtain insurance at all during the time when the shipments of grain are at their heaviest, namely, during October.

The Western members are to ask the Federal Government to absorb the difference in insurance rates from Montreal and Fort Churchill. In other words, the Government has built the railroad which will make shipment by the Hudson Bay route possible. It is to provide the shipping. It is now asked to bear, as well, a considerable percentage of the insurance rate. It is the taxpayers who are asked to bear the brunt, and there is the slimmest possible chance of the route proving a paying economic venture. So far as wheat shipments are concerned, at a time when the movement is negligible and hundreds of thousands of tons of shipping are tied up for lack of cargoes, the Hudson Bay venture appears like a work of supererogation. The Government is already deeply enough pledged and committed for railways and shipping without engaging in the insurance of vessels to provide trade for State-owned railways and ships.

TARIFF THE ISSUE

There is very little use of the Mosleyites in Great Britain putting forth a programme for a new party. Mr. Ramsay MacDonald's idea of raising anew the issue of the House of Lords is equally futile, and Mr. Snowden's taxation of land values is a policy to which he cannot commit the next Parliament. Mr. Lloyd George is casting about in search of a cry that will resuscitate the fortunes of Liberalism, and he appears to be searching in vain. What these various politicians appear to forget is that the people of Great Britain have an invariable habit of thinking in black and white. They do not follow new gods or strange gods. At the next election the fundamental issue will be the tariff. The competing forces at the polls will be just two in the minds of the electorate—the Conservatives and all others. The makers of new parties and new election cries in Great Britain at this juncture have a weary road to travel.

In 1924 Mr. Ramsay MacDonald laid down what he considered should be an axiom of international relationship. He said: "No government will ever tolerate an arrangement with a foreign Government by which the latter is in formal diplomatic relations of a correct kind with it, while at the same time a propagandist body organically connected with a foreign Government encourages and even orders subjects of the former to plot and plan revolutions for its overthrow." Considering the character of the propaganda which Soviet Russia is carrying out all the time in British lands it is obvious that Mr. MacDonald in theory and practice is not one and the same man.

British Columbia's finances will benefit through the new Federal budget. Hereafter the Dominion Government is to pay three-quarters instead of half the cost of old age pensions. This means a saving of $307,500 per annum to this province. Ultimately it is hoped that the Dominion will assume the full cost of these pensions, but in the meantime the relief to provincial finances is a move in the right direction. Pensions of this character should be a national affair.

Scotland cannot yet be said to be pining for home rule. The Nationalist Party wants a plebiscite on the question, but the demand for such is almost negligible. In a by-election in the St. Rollox Division of Glasgow the Nationalist candidate only polled one out of six votes. For the time being Scotland is quite willing to go on ruling Great Britain and other parts of the Empire, as well as herself.

SPRING SONG

The sweet wild dogwood wears its flowers
Through silent shadow-patterned hours,
And ivory cream-cups make a star
Where robin and wake-robin are.
The judas-trees let crimson drip
From each spire-pointed finger-tip,
And bishop's crosiers unfold
To dust the ginger-root with gold.
Then, gathering all her loveliness,
Spring goes, and leaves us no address.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

Great God! I'd rather be
A pagan suckled in a creed outworn;
So might I, standing on this pleasant lea,
Have glimpses that would make me less forlorn.
—Wordsworth.

The colored philosopher who declared in a lecture delivered in Hamilton, Ont., many years ago, "that the sun do move" was right, although he was wrong in the deduction drawn from his hypothesis. The deduction was that the earth does not move but that the sun moves round it. The colored philosopher was also a preacher of the die-hard or Fundamental persuasion. He stood fast by a literal interpretation of the teachings of the Bible. But if he stood still intellectually, many of his modern brethren of the cloth and of lighter complexion are moving so fast that many people in the world must have difficulty in keeping step with them.

We have seen by the papers that a Canadian clergyman of the advanced school of thought has announced that he is prepared to tell women who come to him to be married how the avoid the inconvenience of being bothered with children after he has married them. Our recollection of the marriage service according to the ordinances of the Anglican Church is somewhat vague. On the one occasion in which we were directly interested in the matter we were in no condition of mind to take notes of the injunctions read from the book or of the admonitions of the parson. But we seem to remember that in the service there was something explanatory of the purposes for which the holy state of matrimony was instituted. One fact is clear in our mind: that in the service there was no reference whatever to the modern institution or practice of birth control. "Quite the contrast," according to the version of a dear old lady who was not even modern in her understanding of the use of words.

Owing in part to our recollection of the terms of the marriage service and in whole to a misjudgment of the position of the church, we believed that the announcement of the clergyman of the advanced theological school that he was ready to assume new and startling functions would result in righteous and indignant protests from almost every priest, parson and preacher in the world. But it would appear that some of the things we have been told orally and by correspondence must be true: that, in fact, we are nothing but a crusted and mildewed old Tory; that while all the rest of the people of the world have been going forward by leaps and bounds we have been either standing still or falling back both politically and socially. Instead of the protests we expected to read about, we have read that the position of the clergyman of the modern school of theology has been endorsed by a number of individual parsons and preachers and that some of the church assemblies purpose endorsing that position too. If such things are in accordance with the teaching of modern churches, then modern churches are very different in their interpretation of sacred teachings from the interpretations of the reverend fathers of the ancient churches.

We are not taking the side of either the mediaevalists or the moderns in this somewhat delicate and highly important matter. We do not contend that the fast-stepping parson is not justified in establishing the school he purposes setting up. We know that the celebrated Dean of St. Paul's is no laggard in his zeal for reforms in both church and state, for he says that the time will come when England will have merely about half the population it has today and that consequently nobody will be out of employment and everybody will be busy, contented and happy. The leader of English theological and ecclesiastical thought does not state how this revolution is going to be "accomplished; it cannot be wrought by emigration, for nobody wants to leave the country when he can live in it comfortably on the dole, so it must be brought about by the practice of either birth control or abstinence.

It is somewhat of a coincidence that just about the same time as we were reading the news about the purpose of the clergyman who is greatly daring in his zeal for limitation of the physical functions of women, we happened to be reading a book which appears to have been written by a modern pagan, an extremely erudite man but not an interesting writer. One of the characters is this book (a young girl who appeared to have no idea of the significance of what she was saying, but was merely repeating something she had heard somebody else say) startled a mixed company at a dinner party by declaring: "Contraception has made chastity unnecessary!" So putting together what we had read in the newspapers and what we had read in the book, the thought we could not keep out of our mind was that paganism and Christianity, which for about twenty centuries had been drawing apart, in this century are coming together. Are the reforming parson and the pagan author so very far apart in their teachings?

SAANICH BOARD OPENS TENDERS

Twelve Bids Submitted for Building of Two High Schools

Tenders for the construction of two four-roomed high schools in Saanich, one in the northern portion of the municipality and another in the southeastern district, were opened by the Saanich School Board at a special meeting held at Royal Oak Tuesday night. Twelve bids for the general structures were received, and eleven for the plumbing and heating.

The bids were considered by the council, sitting in committee, and were later handed to the works committee for its perusal and report to the school trustees tonight. Hugh Savage, architect, told members of the school board the bids were very favorable. No amounts were disclosed.

While bids for the building of two of the three Saanich high schools provided for in the $93,000 by-law passed by the electors recently have been received by the board, only one definite site has been secured.

The board decided to make an offer to Mrs. Virginia Butler for the purchase of two and a half acres on Keating Crossroad, as part of the proposed place for the northern school. The secretary will write to J. W. Rowland, Carey Road, asking if he is prepared to accept the offer of $400 an acre for eight acres of his property. It is proposed to build an eight-room school in this district.

G. H. SMITH ELECTED HEAD OF VICTORIA AERIE NO. 12, F.O.E.

G. H. Smith last night succeeded C. H. Lester as president of the Victoria Aerie, No. 12, F.O.E., at a meeting called for the election of officers at the clubrooms. By virtue of his past office, Mr. Lester becomes the junior past president of the organization. Other officers installed were: C. O'Regan, vice-president; E. M. McCabe, chaplain; W. W. Laing, secretary; J. Wilmshurst, treasurer; J. E. Marsh, A. Saddler, F. LeRoy, trustees; Dr. A. D. Bechtel, aerie physician; H. Simpson, outside guard, and H. Flett, inside guard. The meeting was well attended and J. H. Hughes, the first president of the Victoria aerie, officiated during the installation.

An announcement of the State Aerie Convention to be held soon in Hoquiam, Washington, was made, and G. H. Smith, C. H. Lester, C. Jasper, Frank LeRoy and G. W. Laff signified their intention of attending the gathering.

CIVIC BY-LAWS

Sir,—George W. Newton in his letter to The Colonist, exhibits an eagerness to see the by-laws carried, but I question this same eagerness, if, through the stress of circumstances, he was behind in his taxes, with a probability of losing all he possessed in his home. When faced with this serious problem, it makes one think of self-preservation, and I am sorry to say I know of numbers of ratepayers in this predicament.

I find Mr. Newton cannot vote on a money by-law, having no interest in any property, only claiming a vote by having a licence to trade in this beautiful city.

The ratepayers, who will be required to foot the bill when presented, have to be considered first, and must settle in their minds not how much they would like to spend but how much they can afford to spend, and govern themselves accordingly. JOHN DAY.

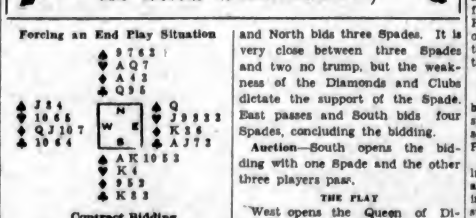
SOUND AUCTION and CONTRACT

by WILBUR C. WHITEHEAD

The World's Greatest Authority

Forcing an End Play Situation



Contract Bidding

	1st Rd.	2nd Rd.
South	1 ♠	4 ♠
West	Pass	Pass
North	3 ♠	Pass
East	Pass	Pass

Auction Bidding

	1st Rd.
South	1 ♠
West	Pass
North	Pass
East	Pass

The above deal is another one of those frequent examples of where it is necessary for the declarer to resort to the elimination or strip and end play in order to make his contract. As is so often the case, this is due to the uneven distribution of the adverse trumps.

Of course, South is not sure of this adverse distribution, for East's play of the Queen at the first trick might be a false card. However, it is a warning that South should take and so play the hand as to be able to throw the lead at the proper time.

SALIENT POINTS OF THE BIDDING

Contract—South opens the bidding with one Spade, West passes and North bids three Spades. It is very close between three Spades and two no trump, but the weakness of the Diamonds and Clubs dictate the support of the Spade. East passes and South bids four Spades, concluding the bidding.

Auction—South opens the bidding with one Spade and the other three players pass.

THE PLAY

West opens the Queen of Diamonds and dummy takes the trick with the Ace. A small Spade is led from Dummy and the trick taken by declarer with the King. Declarer now decides that this is the proper time to discard one of his Diamonds and accordingly three rounds of Hearts are led.

Dummy now leads a small Diamond, East taking the trick with the King and returning that suit. This trick declarer trumps, after which he leads the Ace and another Spade. West is now in the lead. It is apparent that should he lead a Diamond, the dummy will discard a Club, while the declarer will trump.

He accordingly is forced to open the Club suit himself and it makes no difference which card he leads. Should he lead the ten, North would cover with the Queen, and declarer could afterwards finesse against East's Jack. Should he lead a small Club, a small Club would be played from dummy and the finesse taken against West's ten. It is plainly seen that should declarer be forced to make the initial lead of the Club himself, he would be obliged to lose two tricks therein.

PREMIER VOICES FAITH IN FUTURE OF PROVINCE

morning after. But that phase is passing and we are recovering from our fright."

The Premier dealt generously with what, in his opinion, were the underlying causes of the world decline, applying his remarks particularly to the Dominion of Canada. He said:

"In a hundred years Canada has experienced sixteen recessions comparable with this and has emerged with strength and vigor unabated and prestige unimpaired. The current decline may be compared with that of 1920-1921, which left us pretty sick, but with no bones broken, and we did not have to wait long for convalescence. It seems reasonable to believe that the low point has been reached. The costs of raw materials are now at prewar level, and in the past, low price for raw materials has always been the harbinger of better times industrially. Our natural resiliency will assert itself again, and more vigorously than ever.

"Personally, I do not agree with the expression 'return to normalcy.' Business must grow, industry must expand, working conditions improve and standards of living advance. Normalcy is a state of progress; we do not return, we go forward.

DEPRESSION CAUSES

"The abolition of these business cycles and periods of depression is difficult, but not impossible. They seem to follow a regular sequence of rising rates of interest, declining trade, declining prices and then the crisis of unemployment. A better regulation of the credit supply would go a long way towards stabilizing business conditions. It is claimed by some that depression is due to a wrong adjustment between spending and saving; that underconsumption and oversaving are responsible for industrial crises.

SUGGESTED REMEDY

"It is generally recognized that overproduction is prosperity's greatest enemy, and regulation of production is the real key to the problem.

"Our logging and lumbering industry is an example. It is languishing today from overproduction and overcompetition, and unless it is remedied, can only result in the liquidation of our natural resources to nobody's lasting benefit.

"In his recent speech at Birmingham, Great Britain's star salesman, H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, said: "I think we have come to the point where we have to consider the advisability in many cases of manufacturing inside the tariff walls which have been erected.'

"There lies one solution of the problems which are agitating us in Canada.

"Great Britain spends huge sums in countries apart from the Empire for commodities which we can supply. Great Britain could easily direct to Canada all the capital necessary for our larger development, and if Great Britain on her part would find the market for our products, we could as easily absorb hundreds of thousands of British workmen in our manufacturing and industrial centres."

MAJOR INDUSTRIES

Disposing of the causes, and the probable remedy for the economic disturbance, Premier Tolmie took the manufacturers on a voyage of discovery of the province, extolling its pioneers, relating its history and giving the Easterners an insight into the wealth within its boundaries. Enumerating the major industries the Premier continued:

"Up to this point, I have said very little about British Columbia, but we are particularly proud of the manner in which we have weathered the economic disturbance. Six major industries contribute to our prosperity—manufacturing, general construction, lumbering, mining, agriculture and fishing. Such a diversity of production naturally has a tendency to stabilize business and preserve our equilibrium.

"The volume from our natural resources in 1930 was surprisingly good, although we suffered from low prices. Here are the figures: Lumbering, $75,000,000; agriculture, $62,000,000; mining, $55,000,000; fishing, $23,000,000.

"Our mines showed a record production year, with new high outputs of silver, lead and zinc. Some of the larger properties are in better shape than at any other time in their history, and dividends for 1930 are around $12,000,000. In 1923 they were $3,000,000.

"Our agricultural production surpassed that of any previous year. Vast strides were made in fruit growing, and we experienced a remarkable influx of settlers into our land settlement areas. The salmon pack exceeded that of the banner year of 1926. Only in the logging and lumbering industry does depression still persist, but even there production soared to a peak which a few years ago would have been hailed with high glee.

UNEMPLOYMENT

"Our unemployment situation has been serious, but there our problem is peculiarly our own. Could we close our ports of entry against the influx of unemployed from other parts of the Dominion, who come here to winter in our mild climate, our problem would be relatively simple. Of our own population, only 4 per cent registered for unemployment relief, which I think clearly indicates the stability of British Columbia. I think it will be agreed that we have weathered very well."

NATURAL RESOURCES

Going back to the days of '71 Premier Tolmie traced the history of the province to the present. He mentioned the various misconceptions of the leaders of public thought in the early days, quoted authorities of a later day and their predictions concerning British Columbia. He told the gathering of the timber stands, forest products and the uses to which British Columbia woods may be put. He detailed the mineral resources of the province, value of mineral production—British Columbia leading in the output of silver, lead and zinc. He stressed the enormous growth of the fishing industry and the establishment of the world's largest fish storage plant at Prince Rupert.

Dealing with agriculture, the Premier cited the expanse of territory capable of cultivation, the adaptation of the areas for mixed farming and for fruit growing and poultry raising. Stock raising, he said, was one of the important branches of industry. Farms had increased from 16,000 in 1920 to 23,000 in 1930. He mentioned, in passing, the value of products being imported to show the demand was greatly in excess of the supply.

TRADE WITH ORIENT

Trade with the Orient, which has been one of the foremost topics of speakers to the delegates of the association, was mentioned by the Premier, when he said:

"Trade with the Orient is increasing in nursery stock, dairy cattle and products, poultry and fur-bearing animals, and we hope for a steady increase.

"Over there, there are hundreds of millions of consumers who are beginning to learn the value of the food products which we have to sell, and there are enormous possibilities for development, with our agricultural lands in British Columbia hardly touched yet.

The world's population has increased in post-war years by about 6 per cent. Production of foodstuffs and raw materials has increased by nearly 20 per cent. The value of production has increased more rapidly than the population, but it has increased in certain lines to the neglect of others. To use the saying: 'Man shall not live by bread alone.' Diversification of production is the solution of many of our problems. Every country should aim to produce what the market wants—produce it of good quality and uniformity, and in ample volume."

WORLD TRADE ROUTES

The Premier gave information concerning the waterpowers of the province, the development that has taken place and the enormous energy yet undeveloped prepared to meet the demands of the manufacturer, and the close proximity of raw materials and market.

"British Columbia," the Premier said, "is the logical distributing point for the trade of half the world. In relation to trade routes, its position is enormously important. It is the half-way house of the British Empire; measured from London, from India or from the Antipodes, its ports are practically in the Empire's geographic centre. Close students of Empire political economy, of trade movement generally, are agreed that the strength of the one and the trend of the other is in and towards the Pacific, where two-thirds of the world's population can be served."

In conclusion, Premier Tolmie reviewed the port of Vancouver, and its importance in the world of commercial shipping, tourist traffic and probable highway construction. He made an appeal for capital to assist in the development of the province.

On concluding his address, the Premier was given extended applause from the 300 guests assembled in the auditorium.

A. LAMBERT ELECTED HEAD OF DAIRYMEN AT JOINT MEETING

A. Lambert was last night elected president of the officers appointed to the Vancouver Island Central Dairymen's Association, at a joint meeting of the Victoria and Saanich Farm and Dairymen's Association and the Esquimalt and South Cowichan Protective Dairymen's Association on Tuesday night.

F. C. Blake was named first vice-president, while N. P. Dugan and J. W. Filmer were elected second vice-president and secretary-treasurer, respectively. The directors named were: G. Austin, W. Bell, C. F. Hall, J. Oliver, W. Sanders and B. Young.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily British Colonist of June 4, 1881)

The steamer Western Slope arrived from Yale in eleven hours yesterday with Barnard's Express. This is the quickest trip ever made between the two points.

The new Puget Sound mail contractors will begin a triweekly service today. An arrangement has been consummated with the Canadian postal authorities by which the steamers will run from Seattle to Victoria three times a week. The steamer North Pacific will arrive today with the mails. Arrangements are on foot which, it is thought, will insure a daily mail service with Victoria and a daily service between Victoria and Yale in connection with the Western Slope and another through boat. This is good news, indeed, for British Columbians.

The Dominion Government does not contemplate removing the duty on hard coal, as was stated by a dispatch received recently.

Amor DeCosmos, M.P., representative of the Government of British Columbia, sails for England on Saturday, per steamer Parisian. His business is to lay before the Imperial Privy Council the claims of the Province of British Columbia regarding the Vancouver Island portion of the Canadian Pacific Railway.—Ottawa Free Press.

The Premier has been obliged to cancel his projected trip to British Columbia. It is understood that the Hon. John O'Connor, Postmaster-General, will visit that province shortly on state business.—Ottawa paper.

NEW UNIFORMS ALMOST READY

Changes in Clothing of City Force Will Become Effective Next Week

Giving promise of being much smarter than the present attire worn by the members of the city police force, the new uniforms, ordered by Chief Thomas Heatley shortly after his promotion to the office of chief constable, will make their debut about the middle of next week, the chief stated yesterday.

Both the helmet and the belt will pass out of existence with the old uniforms. A smart cap, similar to that at present worn by the sergeants, will replace the old headgear, while the belt is to be permanently discarded.

NEW TUNICS SMARTER

Chief Heatley stated yesterday that the new tunics are of a smarter cut and will have a shoulder strap resembling that of a soldier's tunic. On the strap, in silver letters, will be "V.C.P.," which stands for Victoria City Police. No change will be made in the pants.

The St. John Ambulance badges, which are somewhat smaller than the ones previously worn, will be placed on the right arm, about six inches from the end of the tunic sleeve. These badges were previously worn on the upper part of the arm.

NEW HAT BADGE

A new hat badge of silver, depicting a beaver sitting on a log, and a crown on top, will be worn with the new headgear.

With the issuing of the new uniforms, a renumbering of the personnel of the force will be made. Numbers will be allotted according to seniority, Chief Heatley stated.

Changes in the clothing of the sergeants are very minute. Breast pockets will be included in the tunics, and black bone buttons with the wording "Police Force" will replace the old hooks and eyes. Sergeants will also wear numerals on their tunic collars.

The discarding of the helmet will mean that an additional twenty men will be wearing hats.

Speaking on the change in clothing, Chief Heatley said that the present uniforms being worn by the members of the local force are forty years behind the times, and he felt that it was time that a change was made. He favored the men being modernly clothed, he concluded.

D. W. HANBURY AGAIN ELECTED

Entire Executive of Vancouver Island Fox Fur Farmers' Assn. Reappointed

The entire executive of the Vancouver Island Fox Fur Farmers' Association was re-elected to office for the ensuing year at the annual meeting held on Tuesday. Those who will direct the association are: D. W. Hanbury, president; A. Hansen, vice-president; N. A. Moore, secretary-treasurer; G. E. Serry and D. M. McDonald, executive officers. J. Arthur Wild was named auditor for the association.

The report of President Hanbury stated that the association had experienced a most successful and encouraging year and that some very important and beneficial work had been accomplished, due to the excellent co-operation of the members and the markets branch of the Provincial Government. The Attorney-General's Department also did a great deal of work for the association, having put through legislation which was of actual benefit to the members. A vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Hanbury for his untiring efforts for the association.

The financial report was another favorable item on the agenda. Its condition was shown to be excellent, and in consequence the marking fees for the coming year were reduced. The cost of marking foxes to be pelted will be much less than if the animals are to be kept for breeding purposes.

Mr. Henderson is a newcomer to the board of officers and was the unanimous choice of the delegates at the C.M.A. convention for the second vice-presidency. Mr. Monypenny, who has for many years tended the treasury, was re-elected without opposition. Business of the Diamond Jubilee Convention of the association ended yesterday with the election of the officers for the new association year and the appointment of members to the executive council and standing committees of the organization. Delegates will leave today for Vancouver on their return to the East.

whom reposes that calm mind, and that sturdy uprightness which will never be deterred from the performance of your public duties; a man who will never be swayed in carrying out that performance by other than the most honorable and just consideration of the public weal.

"We feel pride in that we have in our leader one in whom possesses a vision as broad as this great province is wide. We are proud in that we have in our leader a man whose heart is as generous as that of any red-blooded man who loves his fellow men before himself.

ADMIRATION FELT

"We would like to express, too, our admiration for your personal worth, and our thankfulness for those great human qualities possessed by you; qualities which will ever be the major attraction in the final analysis of a great public man.

"We are thankful, too, for those characteristics possessed by you which result in country ever being placed before partisanship, and extend to you our heartfelt loyalty and aid in your determination to mould our province into a great and glorious country in which each and every one of us will feel the greatest possible pride.

"Appreciating your determination to resent the harmful influences that would weaken our cause we tender you our every assistance in this regard."

NO CONVENTION NEEDED

The meeting went unanimously on record to "advise the various provincial associations that the central executive of the Victoria Conservative Association is not in favor of the holding of a convention at this time, and that it considered isolated resolutions presented asking for a convention to have been devised not in the best interests of the party but through a spirit of carping criticism, which would seem to have been inspired by enemies of the Government rather than by our friends."

The meeting further went on record: "That the annual meeting of the association, which will be held in November, is the proper time and place to discuss the holding of a convention."

When this resolution, proposed by Hugh Allan, was put to the vote, it was carried without a dissentient voice, and was followed by an enthusiastic demonstration. Many speakers, including Lindley Crease, K.C., chairman of the provincial executive and president of the British Columbia Association; R. A. Wootton, chairman of the Victoria Central Executive and president of the Victoria Association, spoke warmly in appreciation of the personal services rendered to the party by Dr. Tolmie, and of the high degree of public service the Premier has rendered the people of the province.

IS ABLE LEADER

Mr. Crease rehearsed the facts leading up to the choice of Dr. Tolmie as leader, at the Kamloops convention prior to the last election. He told of the refusal of Premier Tolmie, at first, to take the proffered honor, and of his consent at the request of the committee after the convention had been deadlocked for some time. This consent had been given at a personal sacrifice by the Premier, but having consented, he had led the party to the exclusion of all personal interests.

The convention at Kamloops had been unanimously in favor of the choice, and members of the Conservative party throughout British Columbia had since had no reason to regret the action taken, Mr. Crease affirmed. There was due to Dr. Tolmie not only the appreciation that his high standard of public service had won, but also the united and loyal support of the party he led. Vociferous applause greeted Mr. Crease's remarks.

Speaking in similar vein, R. A. Wootton, chairman of the meeting, paid high tribute to the steadfastness of Dr. Tolmie in the interests of good government in British Columbia. These were abnormal times, and the Government had weathered conditions that had disturbed every country in the world, and had set at naught the best conceived of plans. There could, he said, be no room for two opinions on the part of any fair-minded person on the splendid services of Premier Tolmie to his province, and the party he represented, he said, to applause.

After a discussion of association matters, in which arrangements were made for the annual picnic of the Victoria Association, a vote of hearty appreciation was passed to the Victoria Women's Conservative Association for its energetic activities, notably in the strong speaking programme it has laid before its members this Spring. R. A. Wootton presided.

ROTARY HOSTS AT CHARITY BALL

King's Birthday Celebrated in Happy Fashion at New Manufacturers' Building

Brought into use for the first time last night in compliment to the visiting delegates to the convention of Canadian Manufacturers, the new building destined to be the permanent quarters of the local manufacturers at the Exhibition Grounds, presented an appropriate setting for the charity ball organized in behalf of the St. Joseph's and Jubilee Hospitals and its own charitable activities.

The immense hall with its walls draped in flags and gay-colored bunting presented a very bright appearance. In the centre was a flag-draped dais for the orchestra, while at one end were the tables presided over by the Ladies' Auxiliaries of both hospitals, from which refreshments were served in buffet fashion, later in the evening. The tables looked very attractive, carrying out the Rotary Club colors in an effective mingling of gold iris and blue delphiniums.

Premier S. F. Tolmie and Mayor Herbert Anscomb were among the prominent guests attending the affair, while the convention delegates were also largely represented.

Entertainment features included charming ballet and tap dances by Miss Violet Fowkes and several of her pupils. An excellent programme of the latest dance numbers was furnished by a ten-piece orchestra.

NEW MODERATOR LED MINORITY

Rev. W. G. Brown Was Missionary Among B.C. Miners After Ordination

The election of Rev. W. G. Brown, of Saskatoon, as moderator of the Presbyterian Church in Canada at Toronto last night is regarded as a tribute to his own missionary enterprise and to the growth of the Presbyterian Church in Saskatchewan, where the number of Presbyterian congregations has increased from twenty in 1925 to 110 at the present time.

The new moderator began life on a farm in Huntington Township, Que. He was educated at Huntington Academy and McGill University, from which he graduated in 1899 with first-class honors in philosophy.

After ordination, Mr. Brown spent five years as a missionary among the lumbermen of Northern Ontario and the miners of British Columbia, and one year of postgraduate study at Glasgow and Edinburgh.

Mr. Brown took an active part in the church union controversy, touring Canada from coast to coast in 1923 as a leader of the anti-union cause. In July, 1925, he was called to lead a minority group in Saskatoon, which formed St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

Warehouse Entered—The Cameron Wood Company's warehouse, Store Street, was entered Tuesday night, according to a report filed at the police station. Nothing has been reported missing.

Prevent Outbreak—Burning rubbish in the basement of the Albany Hotel, 1021 Government Street, gave the local fire department a run at 11:59 o'clock last night. The quick response prevented the fire from causing much damage.

To Hear Appeal—Mr. Justice F. B. Gregory, in Supreme Court, here, this morning, will hear an appeal of Jacob Chipps, an Indian resident of Esquimalt, against a police court conviction for having supplied wine to another Indian. C. H. O'Halloran will seek release of Chipps by way of habeas corpus proceedings.

Cabinet to Attend—Premier Tolmie and all members of his Cabinet at present in the city or at Vancouver will attend the banquet to be given by the Richmond-Point Grey Conservatives this evening in honor of Hon. S. L. Howe. The Premier will return tomorrow, after a brief visit to the Mainland for the purpose.

Addresses Conference — H. W. Cheney, secretary of the commercial intelligence department of the Department of Trade and Commerce, Ottawa, in an address to delegates at the convention of the Canadian Manufacturers' convention at the Empress Hotel, gave a review of the work of his special department, trade commissioners, their services and their value to the manufacturers of Canada.

Many Visit Museum—Many residents and visitors to the city took occasion of the holiday yesterday to visit the Provincial Museum. Scores signed the visitors' book during the day and passed in interested review through the galleries of bird and animal exhibits. The collection of Indian relics was a favored place, and many commented on the exceptionally fine display in this regard.

Cyclist Injured—Fred Hansen 618 Blanshard Street, suffered minor injuries when the bicycle which he was riding was struck by an automobile at the intersection of Michigan and Government Streets at 7 o'clock last night. Police who were summoned to the scene of the accident, removed the injured man to the police station, where first aid was rendered, and later took him to his home.

Publisher Visits City—C. C. Stovel, of Winnipeg, trade magazine publisher, accompanied by Mrs. Stovel, arrived at the Empress Hotel yesterday from the East and will remain in Victoria until tomorrow, when they will sail by the Ss. Princess Louise on an Alaskan cruise. Mr. Stovel stated that he considered British Columbia was an attractive travel magnet and that its climate was ideal.

Will Honor Minister—The Conservative Association of Richmond-Point Grey will hold a banquet this evening for Hon. S. L. Howe, Provincial Secretary, who represents that constituency in the Legislature. The function will be held at the Memorial Hall, Kerrisdale. C. G. Beeston will preside. Mr. Howe has been active in his constituency, and the banquet is being tendered in appreciation of his services in its behalf.

Civil Service Tests—Results in the Civil Service examinations for stenographers, in which 750 applicants wrote papers in the recent tests, will be known towards the end of this month, it was stated yesterday by Norman Baker, Civil Service commissioner. Approximately the full panel of applicants sat for the examinations, 310 being accommodated in a single auditorium at Vancouver, 240 in Victoria and the remainder at other points throughout the province.

Hear Dean Clement—In addressing the Canadian Manufacturers' convention here, Dean F. M. Clement, of the University of British Columbia faculty of agriculture, declared that through the adoption of the improved scientific method of farming, British Columbia and Canadian agriculturists could successfully compete with the state farms of Russia. "The Canadian farmer is highly individualistic," he said. "If our farmers are going to compete with the state farms, they must get their costs down to those of the Russian interests."

Greetings to C.M.A.—The convention of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association received the following telegram yesterday from John E. Edgerton, president of the National Association of Manufacturers of the United States of America: "Manufacturers of Canada and the United States are mutual economic allies. The fundamental similarity of our respective problems must not be overlooked in the welter of passing and confusing political expediencies. United States industries extend to the industries of Canada renewed assurance of co-operation, good will and good wishes."

Premier Congratulated—Following his outspoken address at the Conservative rally this week, Premier Tolmie has been showered with congratulations from supporters of the party from far and near. The straightforward utterances of the Premier sounded a dominant note in Conservative circles and have evoked widespread appreciation of the manner in which Dr. Tolmie answered critics who were loudest in his absence. The address was the second occasion since his return from the East on which the Premier dealt plainly with party matters and did not mince words.

Minister Favors Divorce in Spain

MADRID, June 3 (AP).—Various groups in the new Spanish republic which have been agitating for the passage of divorce laws to substitute for the present restriction to legal separation found their cause strengthened today when the newspaper Cristol published an interview with Minister of Justice Fernando De Los Rios, in which he was quoted as advocating the movement.

"Divorce is a common right," Minister De Los Rios was quoted as saying. "I believe it should be proposed to the coming constituent assembly."

He denied, the story said, that divorce is inconsistent with Spanish Catholicism, declaring that Belgium, which is a Catholic country, has had divorce since 1830.

Metchosin Lamb Show and Sheep Shearing Contests Attract Large Gathering

METCHOSIN, June 3.—The fifth annual sheep-shearing contest and lamb show under the auspices of Metchosin Sheep Breeders' Association was opened today by F. G. Waide, who expressed his gratification at the large crowd gathered together for the event. He spoke of the association's efforts to make the event a bigger and better one every year. This year there was one extra lamb class and two wool classes. He thanked all the business houses which had generously donated prizes for the different classes. As the Government this year was unable to give the usual grant, the association had had to ask for more than usual and also to donate a large number of the prizes itself.

During the afternoon, while judging was in progress, tea was served in the hall. Mrs. M. E. McVicker, the secretary, also enrolled eleven new members.

The prize winners were as follows:

Best Grade Ewe Lamb—1, Locke Bros., Oxford grade lamb; 2, A. Wilson, Parksville, Suffolk grade lamb; 3, Mr. McPherson, Suffolk grade lamb.

Best Grade Wether Lamb—1, Miller Ranch, Southdown and Oxford grade; 2 and 3, John Halden, Southdown grade.

The silver challenge cup donated by the Vancouver Island Flockmasters' Association was won by Locke Bros. with an Oxford grade ewe lamb. A miniature cup went with this to be kept by the winner.

Y. K. Harrop acted as judge.

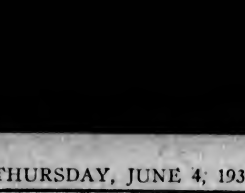
Just Roamin' Around



By TWO ROVERS

"What sense is there in taking a census, Master, and where do they take it to?" asked my sagacious hound, "and who cares if there are 9,874,642 or 9,874,643 people in Canada?"

"You don't understand, Rover, said I. "Since the very earliest times in the history of the race it has been necessary to number the inhabitants of any country that had more than three of a population. Not every year, but every once in a while. Canada is becoming rapidly of the very greatest importance to the Empire and to the world, and it is essential that those in whose hands is placed, for the nonce at least, the authority for and responsibility of ruling and caring for, and taxing the people of he land, should have a more than guesswork knowledge of the number of voters there are, what they do, and how they exist in these lurid days of trying to make two ends—meat!"

"How many people does a man count, who has a real, honest-to-goodness name, four noms-de-plume, seven aliases, half-a-dozen alibis, and—the 'flu'?"

"You are frivolous, Rover. This is a serious business, and the head-hunting, I mean head-counting, has started. Be prepared to answer some eight-hundred and forty-seven questions, correctly! Be polite to those who come to you for information! Give it as tersely and as truthfully as you know how to; tersely, at least, even if you are not used to the other alternative and cannot do both!"

"Does a dog count as half a person, or as two men, Master?"

"You will be of no account, pretty quickly if you don't look out! Listen! 'This great Canada is divided into ten parts.'"

"Nine provinces, Master!"

"But, ten governments, Rover! That's the first of the many true statistics to learn, for there are many truths which the result of the census, now being taken, will disclose! The nine provinces of Canada are subdivided into some hundreds of ridings, and each riding into urban and rural districts, and these into dozens of cliques, cults denominations, societies and parties, to say nothing of sets, circles, classes and distinctions, and each one of these consists, in some cases, of thousands of individuals, and each individual person is split up into dual (more or less) personalities, and—"

"Stop, Master, you bewilder me entirely! Are there statistics taken and filed of the number of people in the Dominion who love Canada and boost her? No figures to show who grouch about conditions here, there and everywhere else? No way of ascertaining who think their province the best on earth; or who simply don't think? I would love to know the number of those who eat with their knives and keep their hats on at meals; and the percentage of those who buy at home, in Canada, in preference to buying as often as possible across the line."

"That will all show in the census returns, Rover, if you are wise enough to read between the lines, and can make your own deductions from the mass of figures and details that the men, now canvassing for the information, will put before you, at an early date."

The main thing is for everybody to have all the necessary information ready, without hesitation, without quibbling, without prevarication; thus saving the time and patience of census takers, who have, indeed, an enormously trying and tedious task ahead of them in counting heads.

First give your name and where you live;
Recall the place where you were born;
The fullest information give;
Count every bunion, wart and corn!

Just say so, if you own ten sows;
If you have eight pigs, tell him eight;
Recount the names of your bow-wows;
When asked your age, don't hesitate!

State if you're working, or, why not;
If you be lone, or wed, or both;
Keep nothing back; just "shoot the lot";
Ken though to tell these facts you're loath!

Learning to Climb

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Some learn to walk; some learn to fly,
And some to climb first have to try.
—Yellow Wing the Flicker.

Those young Flickers in the telegraph pole grew very fast, but that was to be expected. I know of nothing in the Great World that grows so fast than does a young bird. It wasn't long before they were crowded in that house which had seemed so large when it had been finished by their parents. Then one day when Mrs. Yellow Wing returned with a mouthful of food she was surprised and delighted to see two bills sticking out of the doorway. That was a proud moment for her. It was just such a moment as your mother knew when you first crept. You see, it meant that two babies had begun to climb.

Now, the first thing that some babies learn is how to creep. It is so with most human babies. There are other babies who first learn to walk, some who first learn to hop, a very few who, like baby Humming Birds, fly without learning to use their feet first, and some who learn to climb before they either walk, hop or fly. It is this way with young Flickers. The two whose bills were thrust out of the doorway had climbed up the inside wall of their house and Mrs. Yellow Wing knew that it wouldn't be long now before they would be wanting to climb outside.

When these two had been fed they scrambled down and two more scrambled up. So it came about that there was a great deal of scrambling up and down inside that home all day long as each of those nine youngsters tried for a chance to peep out at the Great World.

Now, in any large family there is bound to be a difference among the children. Some will be bold; others will be timid. Some will be ambitious; others will be lazy. It was just so in the big family of young Flickers. Yellow Wing came hurrying home one day to find three outside of the house, clinging to the telegraph pole, their eyes wide with wonder as they gazed around at the Great World. Two more were peeping out of the doorway. Mrs. Yellow Wing came hurrying up. Two were fed and then, their mouths being free, Yellow Wing and Mrs. Yellow Wing began to talk over what had best be done.

"It won't do for either of us to go far away now," declared Mrs. Yellow Wing. "There is no knowing what might happen to the darlings now that they are out of the house. Of course, the first thing to do is to give them some lessons in climbing. They must be taught to climb up and down and sideways, so as to be able to dodge around a tree trunk, a limb or a pole. It is quite as important as learning to fly. They must be taught how to use their tails. Fortunately that seems to come natural. See how those two up above us are bracing themselves with their tails. They are doing it just as if they always had done it."

Yellow Wing came hurrying home one day to find three outside the house clinging to the telegraph pole

"I hope no more will venture out until these have learned to fly a little," said Yellow Wing. If all nine should be out here at the same time and an enemy happened along we would be sure to lose one of them at least."

"You go look for some more food and stop your worrying. While you are gone I'll give the dears a few hints on how to use their feet and tails."

So Yellow Wing flew off to hunt for food and Mrs. Yellow Wing began a game of dodge-around-the-pole with the three young Flickers who were outside. Presently they were joined by two more, the two who had been looking out the doorway. It was great fun chasing each other around that pole and up and down it. All the time without knowing it they were learning to climb. When Yellow Wing returned he joined in the fun and Mrs. Yellow Wing went to hunt for food.

All afternoon those five young Flickers climbed about on that telegraph pole. Just before the Black Shadows came creeping out from the Purple Hills they went back into the safety of their home, tired but filled with a great desire to see more of the Great World and scornful of the four who had not yet ventured out.

WITHIN

What is the cause of
Rapture or pain?
What has decreed your
Loss or your gain?
Why are days shadowed?
Why are days bright?
Whence came your portion.
Grief or delight?

Questions keep welling
Up in your heart;
Why do your cherished
Treasures depart?

Still is the answer
As it has been:
Still good or evil
Comes from within.
In your soul's soil grow
Flowers or weed;
Yours is the thought that
Planted the seed.

FRIENDLY HELP THANKS DONORS

Society Acknowledges Generous Support of Public—Three Events Aid Funds

Mrs. M. Cullum, the president, presided at the meeting of the Friendly Help Association, held in the Market Building yesterday. The attendance included fourteen members with Alderman James Adam representing the City Council. A warm welcome was given to Mrs. Fletcher, hon. vice-president of the association, now living in Vancouver.

During the meeting a hearty vote of thanks was tendered to the persons interested in arranging the three entertainments for Friendly Help—first, the Dickens Fellowship Club, donation of $20; second, a bazaar carried out by Thisbe Fletcher, aged nine, and her two young friends, bringing in $4.61; and third, the silver tea arranged by Mrs. C. E. Whitaker, which proved a most enjoyable affair, and augmented the funds by the splendid amount of $80.62.

LITTLE IMPROVEMENT

The reports show very little improvement in working conditions. Some have found jobs, but many are depending on city relief work only. There was an average of one new case a day during May—families who have used up all their resources and can obtain no further credit.

Two hundred and twenty-four families, representing 929 persons, received assistance during May; 538 grocery orders, 429 meat orders, twelve coal orders and sixty-six wood orders were issued. One hundred and sixty-nine cases got clothing, seventy-five of which were from Saanich, got clothing only. Fifty-three families received provisions from the rooms and thirteen families sundry articles. Two families who are starting housekeeping got furniture.

An urgent appeal was made for men's clothing and shoes particularly, but clothing of all kinds is very much in demand, also two cook stoves and two bicycles for boys. The Friendly Help Association will take charge of the Market Building for the V.O.N. tag day on Saturday, June 13.

ICELAND HAS LONG HISTORY

Mrs. D. Durkin Addresses Women's Canadian Club on Ancient Parliament

UNIQUE CULTURE OF ISLAND DESCRIBED

A fascinating description of Iceland, ancient and modern, was given by Mrs. Douglas Durkin, of Vancouver, in the address which she delivered before the Women's Canadian Club at the Empress Hotel on Tuesday afternoon. Hinging on the intresting celebration last year of Iceland's thousand years of uninterrupted parliamentary history, the story was cleverly compiled so as to relate all phases of the little nation's political, social and economic life, while graphic word pictures were projected of the wild and beautiful scenery and of the rugged conditions of life which have left their mark on the character of the people and woven their way into the rich literature and art of the people.

Rarely has the club listened to a more eloquent or informative speaker, and at the close of her address Mrs. Durkin was enthusiastically applauded. Mrs. P. B. Scurrah, who presided, presented her with a sheaf of flowers, and Mrs. D. B. McConnan expressed the cordial thanks and appreciation of the audience.

Of most immediate interest was the description of last Summer's celebrations, when with as much fidelity to detail as possible and on exactly the same site there was reproduced the first Icelandic Parliament which took place in the year 930, a thousand years before. An impressive and unforgettable picture was given of the rock-walled ravine where this took place, thirty-three miles from Reykjavik, the present capital. This site had been chosen by the first Parliament partly because of its great and impressive beauty, partly because it was safe from attack by foreign foes. Even in that ancient time the people were such lovers of beauty that they had deflected a river two miles out of its course in order to make the spot still more lovely, and the water still flows past the great "rock of law" set in the midst of walls constructed "as if by some giant mason."

PATTERN FOR WORLD

After a description of the three-day fete which formed last year's celebration, the speaker touched on Iceland's parliamentary system.

"It is the nucleus of the system of government we find today in the leading parliaments of the world," said Mrs. Durkin.

Between 35,000 and 40,000 people, among whom were ambassadors from eleven other countries who wished to extend greetings, attended the celebrations last year. Loudspeakers were installed so that the remotest sections of the audience could hear the speeches, and each of the foreign delegates' addresses was translated into English, that being the one language most easily understood by all. As a member of the delegation from Canada she had experienced a great thrill when the Canadian flag was unfurled. Among those who attended the celebrations were the King and Queen of Denmark, Iceland still, although an independent state, having a personal as well as historic relationship with Denmark.

A CONTRAST

A strong contrast to the ancient character of the event celebrated was the provision of all manner of modern conveniences for the use of those attending the celebration; a special taxi service for the conveyance of the guests to and from the place; telephone and telegraph, newspapers, tents on the grounds.

Modern life in the ancient capital of Reykjavik was also pictured. Although the population of the entire island is only about 100,000 and that of the capital about 25,000, it possesses a thoroughly modern educational system, a fine state library with some of the rarest manuscripts and books in existence, rich treasures in the way of sculpture and painting by brilliant Icelandic artists among whom Mrs. Durkin particularly mentioned Thorwaldsen and Jonsson, and, in Reykjavik itself, modern steam-heated and electrically lighted houses and well-paved streets.

"The flapper on the streets of Reykjavik is just as highly rouged and lipsticked and powdered as our own modern flapper," she noted.

Other evidence of Iceland's progressiveness was to be found in her department stores, in which could always be found someone who could speak English; her university, with its four faculties; her normal business school; the active women's groups working for such social benefits as mothers' pensions, and the Boy Scout and Girl Guide organizations.

NOT EXCLUSIVE

Iceland was shown as unfettered in respect of education, as in the desire to give the children a noninsular outlook parents send them much abroad, particularly to Denmark and England, to be educated. The chief industries are fishing, dairying, and sheep-breeding, and as the people become more modernized they import more and more things from abroad, sports shoes from Canada, motor cars from the United States.

The romantically beautiful early period of Icelandic history, dating back to the contact with ancient Ireland through its Christian missionaries and with Norway through the vikings, was also touched on, and the long connection with all the Germanic peoples was referred to. Eloquent reference was also made to the eddas and sagas, lovely literary forms in which had been preserved much of the mythology and dramatized history of the people. Essentially a literary nation, with one of the oldest and finest cultures in Europe preserved almost intact through the isolation of the island, Iceland was still unique in this respect, a storehouse of some of the greatest classics in existence, and at the same time the home of some of the best contemporary writers.

Miss Grace Platt, festival gold medalist, accompanied by Miss Maquinna Daniels, gave three charming vocal selections, "Hark the Echoing Air" (Purcell); "The Wind's in the South" (Scott), and "The Puddle" (Eville).

HOLIDAY TERM TO BE SHORTER

Changes in School Dates Cut Two Weeks Off Annual Summer Vacation

A shorter Summer vacation period is in store for school children of Victoria this year. Changes in the dates of the closing day and the Fall opening date have cut about two weeks from the annual holiday for the students.

This year children will have to attend school until June 30, instead of the last Friday in the month as formerly. They are called upon to start again on September 1, instead of the first Tuesday after Labor Day.

The new vacation term is being used for the first time. It is understood that it will be in vogue in future to make the opening and closing school dates definite.

SCHOOL CHILDREN IN BIG DISPLAY

Premier Tolmie to Take Salute From About 1,000 Students at Athletic Park, June 10

Under the direction of Major A. C. Hinton, supervisor of physical education for the city schools, an open day will be held on June 10 at Royal Athletic Park. Hon. S. F. Tolmie will take the salute at 2 p.m. from about 1,000 boys and girls.

A special feature of the display will be the dance of Ibis, music of which is composed by Joseph Hinton, whose song, "The Dying Swan," has been performed at the philharmonic concerts in Berlin under Nikisch. This dance is picturesque and characteristic of the Australian aborigine and has been adopted by the composer from the dances of the Ibis among the rice grass swamps of the York Peninusula, North Queensland.

The display will be colorful and impressive. From cadets in blue and white to dancers in black and red, a continuous panorama of color and movement will be shown to the citizens of Victoria. In the cadet exercises no selection has been made. Every Cadet has been allowed to take part irrespective of his ability.

ELECTRA SOCIETY MEETS

A large audience attended the final concert of the Electra Dramatic Society, held in St. Luke's Hall, recently. The first part of the programme consisted of vocal and instrumental numbers, dancing and monologues, while the latter part took the form of a one-act play entitled "Sarah's Young Man," which was very well received. Frank Rendle, the president, acted as master of ceremonies, and Mrs. H. A. Silver was the convener. During the business meeting at the close of the programme, it was decided to hold a social evening and dance on June 26 for members and friends of the society.

Early June Wedding at Home Of Bride

A pretty wedding was solemnized yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Bradshaw, 1150 Empress Avenue, when Rev. W. J. Sipprell officiated at the marriage service for their youngest daughter, Clara Elizabeth, and Mr. Bryce F. Stewart, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Stewart, of Victoria. The bride descended the stairs as the bridal march was played by Miss May Thomson, and during the ceremony stood with the bridegroom beneath an arch of pink and white roses from which was suspended a large white wedding bell. Tall standard baskets filled with delphiniums, snapdragons and iris were arranged at each side.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a pretty sleeveless frock of French blue ninon, made with a full skirt and with cape coatee, lined with pale pink ninon finished at the natural waistline with a narrow belt and an enamel and brilliant brooch. She wore blue shoes to match and a large picture hat of pale pink mohair swathed with a band of blue velvet tied with a large bow on one side. She carried a shower bouquet of pink roses, sweet peas and iris. Her only attendant was Miss Dora Hume, wearing a charming frock of wild rose silk lace made with a two-tier skirt and sleeveless bodice, finished with a deep Bertha collar and a velvet girdle of the deeper shade of pink. She wore a small beige hat of stitched silk with pink roses caught over and beneath the left brim and held an arm bouquet of pink carnations. Mr. Alan Stewart was best man.

Refreshments were afterwards served to the guests, who numbered only relatives and a few intimate friends, from a table centred with a large bowl of roses, the wedding cake standing on a small table. Mrs. Bradshaw and Mrs. A. Wallace, aunt of the bridegroom, assisted in receiving the guests, the former wearing a smart gown of navy blue, and the latter in black crepe de Chine and hat to match. Both wore corsages of roses and tiny mixed flowers.

Victoria West W.M.S. Hears Dr. Sipprell

Mrs. W. F. Perry presided at a most interesting and enjoyable meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of Victoria West United Church, held at the home of Mrs. A. W. Wright on Tuesday afternoon. The devotional period, led by the president, was followed by an address by Dr. Sipprell, who in vivid word pictures of the life of women in Palestine and other Eastern countries, made his hearers realize as never before their own favored lot in Christian Canada. The thanks and appreciation of the meeting were expressed to the speaker by Mrs. Perry. An inspirational leaflet was read by Miss S. Beattie.

A suggestion was made that a letter of sympathy be sent to the family of the late Mrs. Croft. The meeting, at this time, was called upon to stand in silent tribute to the memory of Mrs. Croft, a loved member, whose passing was so deeply felt by all.

Mrs. MacGillivray was appointed to receive collections for the annual life membership fund. Miss M. Beattie reported signatures for disarmament forwarded.

Mrs. Maguire, of the Watch Tower, gave an interesting reading on "New Canadians." Semi-annual collection of mite-boxes resulted in a substantial sum being received.

After a most cordial invitation from the president to all present to attend the July meeting at the Gorge Park the meeting closed with the Mizpah benediction.

ST. COLUMBA W.A. MEETS

St. Columba's W.A. held a business meeting in Colquitz Hall, Mrs. Foster, vice-president, being in the chair in the absence of Mrs. Bennett. A very warm welcome was accorded Mrs. Huntington, a new member. The ladies expressed their sympathy with Mrs. Veals, who recently met with an accident in her home. She was missed by all at the meeting. The treasurer gave good reports of the recent play by Fairfield Players' Club, and of the talent money given by the members.

Mrs. Foster, social service secretary, told of a very needy family in the district whom the meeting decided to help. Mrs. Watling gave an excellent report of the newly-organized juniors, already having a membership of eighteen. These girls have chosen the cyclamen as the flower for their branch, their idea being they want their branch to be like the cyclamen which starts as a very tiny flower, and grows to be a perfect bloom. These juniors are having a silver tea in Colquitz Hall on Thursday, June 25.

Arrangements were made to help with the Sunday school picnic to be held at Elk Lake Athletic Park on July 9, and preliminary arrangements for a garden party on August 5, on the grounds at Strawberry Vale Hall. Plans were made to spring-clean the church on June 11, the men doing the kalsomining and the ladies, the cleaning. There will be no meetings till August 31. At the close of the meeting, Mrs Foster and Mrs. Gilham served a delicious tea.

BIG GATHERING AT RIDEAU HALL

2,000 Attend Garden Party of Governor-General in Honor of King's Birthday

OTTAWA, June 3 (CP). — Ideal weather favored the celebration of June 3, the King's birthday, and more than 2,000 guests attended the garden party held at Rideau Hall by Their Excellencies, the Governor-General and the Countess of Bessborough. The spacious rooms of Rideau Hall were opened to the many guests, who had an opportunity, many of them for the first time, of greeting the new Governor-General. The grounds of Government House were a riot of color with tulips, iris, delphinium, daisies and other seasonal flowers in bloom.

Music throughout the afternoon was supplied by the Governor-General's Footguards, their scarlet uniforms adding a note of color to the scene. The Governor-General received for only a short while and then intermingled with his guests in a most friendly fashion. Viscount Duncannon and Lady Moyra Ponsonby, who wore a simple Summer frock, also strolled around the grounds chatting with the guests.

Among the prominent guests were Premier R. B. Bennett, who was accompanied by his sister and her husband, Hon. W. D. Herridge, Canadian Minister to Washington; Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Opposition leader, and members of the Cabinet, the Senate, the Privy Council, the judiciary and the House of Commons, with their wives.

The weather invited Summer frocks. Flowing, delicate chiffons intermingled with printed crepes made a colorful scene on the lawns surrounding historical Government House.

ST. PAUL'S, NANAIMO, SCENE OF WEDDING

NANAIMO, June 2.—A very pretty wedding took place at high noon yesterday in St. Paul's Rectory chapel, when Ruby Catherine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Matthews, 545 Prideaux Street, became the bride of George Stanley, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. George Moore, 86 Kennedy Street. Masses of carnations, sweet peas, delphinium and fern, formed an artistic background for the wedding. Canon H. V. Hitchcox officiated.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, looked charming in a gown of white georgette and Chantilly lace made ankle length, with hat of lace straw and mohair. White slippers and gloves completed the ensemble. She carried a beautiful shower bouquet of sweet peas and carnations. Miss Helena Fairhurst, who attended the bride, was prettily frocked in shell pink georgette and radium lace, with picture hat and slippers to match. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations. The groom was supported by his brother, Sydney Moore.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home. Mrs. Matthews, assisted by Mrs. Moore, received the guests. A buffet luncheon was served from a daintily appointed table centred by a beautiful three-tier wedding cake.

The happy couple left by the noon boat for Seattle, and on their return will journey to Trail, where they in future will reside. The bride travelled in a dress of heavy silk crepe in chukka green, with matching hat of novelty straw, and a coat of fawn broadcloth smartly tailored and trimmed in flat fur bandings on the collar and lapels. Slippers, purse and gloves of tan completed the ensemble. The out-of-town guests were Mrs. Melville, of Scotland; Mrs. T. Griffiths and Miss Griffiths, of Port Haney; Miss Elsie Fairhurst, Mrs. Charles Vater and Mr. George Vater, of Chemainus.

LAKE HILL CARD PARTY

At the Lake Hill Community Centre regular military five hundred party fourteen tables were in play. Winners of first prizes were Mrs. D. Elliott, Mrs. Robson, Mr. D. Elliott and G. Muir; second prizes, Mrs. Ensley, Mrs. Buckley, Mr. McOrmond, Mr. Tomlin; consolation, Mrs. Lemon, Mr. Ferrier, Mr. Logan, Mr. S. Campion; ten bid, Mrs. A. McCallum, Mr. H. He was whispering sweet nothings in her ear as they sat watching the moon.

"Darling," he crooned, "I'll never, never forget you."

"I'll tell you something that will make you forget me," said the fair young thing.

"What is that, darling?" he asked.

"Tomorrow is my birthday," she announced.

JOHN BOLES IN ROLE OF BUDDING AUTHOR

Are first loves best? This is the question which confronts John Boles in "Seed," Universal's problem drama which opens a six days' engagement at the Capitol Theatre on Monday, with Genevieve Tobin as the first love, Lois Wilson as the second, and Miss Tobin again as the third.

Boles, in the role of Bart Carter, budding author, is hapily married and father of a large family, when Miss Tobin comes into his life again, and thus is introduced "the eternal triangle" and all the problems which follow in the wake of this age-old situation. But the thing that brings him back for a temporary visit after ten years with the siren of his youth is not love for his first wife, however great it may have been. It is something which, with him, goes far deeper.

FIGHT STORY AT CAPITOL TODAY

Lew Ayres Stars in "Iron Man," Powerful Love Tale—Jean Harlow Leading Lady

"Iron Man," starring Lew Ayres, will be the new attraction at the Capitol Theatre, according to an announcement made today by Manager Denham.

This Universal film is considered one of the strong pictures of the season. It is a great love story from the pen of W. R. Burnett, who is also the author of "Little Caesar." Both novels were selected as the "book of the month," and have been tremendous sellers.

"Iron Man" tells the story of the rise and fall of a prizefighter. It is a powerful story, rooted deeply in American life, and with a passionate, if unusual, love theme.

Tod Browning, one of the greatest directors in the business, who was responsible for the filming of most of Lon Chaney's successes, directed "Iron Man."

LYRIC PLAYERS APPEAR TONIGHT

"Mr. Pim Passes By" Is Presentation to Be Given at Coliseum Theatre

In the production by the Lyric Players of A. A. Milne's comedy, "Mr. Pim Passes By," showing at the Coliseum Theatre tonight, it will be found that the parts have been most delightfully cast. A. Hotson, as Mr. Pim, gives us a rendering that could not be bettered, so simply done and yet such delightful comedy. Mrs. L. R. Leslie, the producer, in the part of Olivia Marden, a part requiring finished acting, shows us the woman of the world who has only let suffering mellow her and whose command of a difficult yet ludicrous situation reveals the accomplished actress.

The film, "The Middle Watch," will be shown at the Coliseum in the afternoon, while the play will be presented in the evening only.

DOUBLE OF FAMED FRENCHMAN SEEN

Monsieur Frank, known to every Paris visitor as the famous proprietor-waiter at the Ritz Bar, has entered the movies by proxy. Monsieur Frank's double enacts the role in "Fifty Million Frenchmen," the Warner Bros. and Vitaphone Technicolor comedy special now at the Columbia Theatre.

The double is William Emile, who is a dead-ringer for Monsieur Frank, according to Jake Kiley, technical director of the picture, who knows his Paris.

The cast of "Fifty Million Frenchmen" includes William Gaxton, Olsen and Johnson, John Halliday, Claudia Dell, Helen Broderick and Lester Crawford.

PLENTY OF THRILLS IN COMING PICTURE

Love in the midst of the cradle of savagery; a romance amid the perils of the primeval jungles; spectacle, thrills, wild animals in their primitive state; a girl as savage as the beasts themselves, lured to civilization through love of a man from the outer world—these are some of the outstanding elements unfolded in "Trader Horn," coming to the Dominion Theatre on Saturday.

Transcribed from the famous book of the old African adventurer and filmed in the heart of Africa's jungles in the greatest motion picture expedition of all time, the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production sets a new mark in entertainment.

MAY INVITE PRESIDENT

MONTREAL, June 3.—A proposal to invite President F. T. Cosgrove, of the Irish Free State, to Montreal for the celebration of next St. Patrick's Day is now being considered by the local Patrick's Society.

NEW BRITISH MYSTERY PICTURE COMING HERE

The many admirers of "The Middle Watch" will remember the excellent portrayal of "The Commander" played by Jack Raine, with Owen Nares. It is interesting to learn that Jack Raine will be seen again next week in the new British International Picture "Night Birds." He will be seen in a much more important role than formerly; that of Detective Sergeant Cross, of Scotland Yard, in a picture filmed in the smart upperworld of London.

The story deals with a professional international crook, named "Flash Jack," who has his own mysterious way of dealing with his victims. Jack Raine puts in excellent work as the detective assigned to the tracking down of this troublesome gentleman.

"Night Birds" will run for six days next week at the Coliseum, beginning next Saturday.

WELCOMED AT SALT SPRING

The establishment of the ferry service between Swartz Bay and Fulford Harbor made the visit of the local realtors to Salt Spring Island possible. The experience of members of yesterday's party will be followed by future visits to further enjoy the beauties of Salt Spring.

TOURED ISLAND

A special trip of the ferry Cy Peck was made to connect with the arrival of the party from the city at Swartz Bay at 11:45 o'clock yesterday morning. The return trip started from Fulford at 6:15 o'clock. During the intervening time a tour of the island was made over the excellent roads, taking the party to Harbor House at noon, where luncheon was served, thence they proceeded along the shores of Mary Lake, visiting some of the beauty spots, including the Summer camp at Vesuvius Bay, and back to the White Lodge at Fulford for tea, before leaving on the return trip.

At the luncheon at Harbor House, where representative citizens of the island joined the visitors, a number of speeches were given. Alfred Carmichael, president of the Real Estate Board, paid a compliment to the reception accorded them by the citizens, and to the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Crofton. He said that while Salt Spring Island was so close to Vancouver Island as to be regarded as really a part of it, there had not been the close relations possible in a trading and visiting way that there should, until, through the enterprise of J. S. H. Matson, the ferry, which was now giving such excellent service, was established.

READY TO HELP

The problems of Salt Spring Island, said Mr. Carmichael, were similar to those of Victoria. He assured the citizens of the island that the Real Estate Board would be glad to offer any assistance. He gave praise to James Forman for suggesting the trip, and to the secretary, Hubert Lethaby, for carrying out the arrangements.

Mr. Forman recalled former visits to Salt Spring in the early days, when the voyage was one that took a whole day to go from the Capital to the Island. He was pleased to see H. Bullock at the luncheon, as one of those who was ever on hand to greet them in former times.

The ease with which Salt Spring could be reached now, and the cheapness of the passage by ferry, made the trip, in the opinion of Mr. Forman, one of the greatest attractions Victoria had to offer in the matter of a side tour. He hoped that Victorians would avail themselves of the opportunity of visiting the Island and seeing what it had to offer.

MEMBER'S WELCOME

Captain M. F. Macintosh, M.P.P., for The Islands, in extending a welcome to the visitors from Victoria, referred to the difference that the ferry Cy Peck had made.

In point of age the settlements on Salt Spring, he said, were second in the province only to Victoria itself. At Beaver Point the second-oldest school in British Columbia was located. In his own place, in making improvements a few days before, workmen had torn out some of the logs used in the building, and, in doing so, discovered that copies of The Colonist newspaper, of June 2, 1874, were pasted on the walls, he declared.

Captain Macintosh gave the population of Salt Sprig as 1,500. He spoke of the excellent facilities which existed on the Island for all kinds of sport, and instanced the fact that they had one of the most excellent amateur theatrical companies in the province.

Replying to the question as to why it was called Salt Spring, Captain Macintosh referred to the fact that during the time of the survey of the waters on the coast, from 1856 to 1860, the Island was named Admiral's Island. The name of Salt Spring had been given because, in the northern part of the Island, there were salt springs which carried, also, certain medicinal qualities.

AGRICULTURAL AREA

W. M. Mouat, of Ganges, also extended a welcome on behalf of the residents of the Island. He referred to the farming possibilities of the place, and said there was a large arable area on the Island. The creamery had made a splendid name for the dairy possibilities, while second to that industry was the export of eggs. He hoped that the visitors would return and promised a hearty welcome at all times.

The tour of the Island was made under the guidance of J. J. Shaw, of Fulford; A. Inglis, of Vesuvius, secretary of the Salt Spring Island Land & Investment Company; and D. S. Harris, of Ganges, president of that organization.

Following tea at White Lodge, Fulford, and an inspection of this well-appointed hostelry, the thanks of the visitors was conveyed to Mrs. Cullington, the proprietress. Mr. Carmichael said they had had a wonderful day and had discovered at Vesuvius Bay that there were arbutus trees excelling those in Victoria and that Victoria would have to look well to its laurels in competing with that Island in flowers.

JERUSALEM, June 2 (AP).—Archaeologist Theodore McCown today discovered a child's skull of the Mousterian age, of the same type as the Galilee skull found on the shore of the Sea of Galilee in 1925. The Mousterian man is generally regarded as the ancestor of modern European type, and the skull is estimated to be 30,000 years old.

A canny Scot was brought before a magistrate on a charge of having been drunk and disorderly.

"What sort of company?"

"A lot of teetotallers," was the startling response.

"Do you mean to say teetotallers are bad company?" thundered the magistrate. "I think they are the best company for such as you."

"Beggin' yer pardon, sir," answered the prisoner, "ye're wrong, for I had a bottle of whisky, and I had to drink it all myself."

BOWLERS HOLD SWAY IN O.C.

Small Scores Registered in English Cricket Matches —Jackson Stars

LONDON, June 3 (CP).—Small scores predominated in cricket matches in England today, owing to the wicket suiting the bowlers. Kent batsmen were easy victims for P. Jackson, a young Worcestershire bowler, who took six wickets for 25 runs. Kent made only 76, though Worcestershire did not do much better, A. P. Freeman, the veteran trundler, accounting for seven of their wickets for 44 runs. Oxford University bowlers got Lancashire out for 195. The Middlesex attack, consisting of F. J. Durst and I. A. R. Peebles, skittled out Somerset, who scored only 114, while Warwickshire made a poor showing against Surrey.

A bright spot from the batsmen's point of view was the stand of Prince Duleepsinjhi and James Langridge, for Sussex against Leicestershire. The prince scored 90, not out. For New Zealand, R. C. Blunt batted up 120 in a fine display against Cambridge University. Jack Hobbs, for Surrey, was in his best form, running up a score of 79 and being undefeated at the close of play.

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON

The Aissaouas of Kairuan—The Aissaouas constitute a great religious brotherhship named after Sidi Mohammed ben Aissa, their founder. They maintain sanctuaries throughout North Africa, and their practices are even more remarkable than those of their coreligionists, the Hamadschas. In the zaouia of Kairouan, the holiest city of Tunis, I have seen them perform a series of incredible self-mutilations with sharp instruments, with apparent complete imperviousness to pain. Plunging long, wicked looking knives and sabres into different parts of their anatomy, and walking barefooted upon live coals, are features of this bizarre religious performance. I think that religious frenzy is acting as an anaesthetic in these practices.

A Toy Balloon Stampeded a Herd of Cattle—On December 3, 1930, a chemistry class in Fairfax, Alabama, filled a toy balloon with hydrogen gas and released it with a note asking the finder to communicate with the school. On December 21, 1930, the balloon descended near San Gabriel, Texas, into a herd of 2,000 cattle, stampeding them and killing 163 of the number.

"The Cat's Elbow"—The castle of Katzenelbogen on the Rhine was erected by the famous counts of that name in 1393. There is a town of the same name nearby, in the district of Weisbaden. The name Katzenelbogen in literal translation means "The Cat's Elbow." The name actually is an adaptation to German pronunciation of the Latin word "Cattimelibocus," pointing to the Germanic tribe of the Katten, who took part in the battle in the Teoutoburg Forest, when the Roman domination over Germany ended.

SKIP J. DAVIDSON PLAYS FINE GAME

A reversal of form was seen at the Burnside Bowling Club's greens yesterday afternoon when the Hudson's Bay rink came from behind to beat The Colonist four, 20-19. The chief contributor to his side's victory was Skip Davidson, who outgeneraled the opposing skip and laid his woods just where they did the most good. With the score tied at the last end, Mr. Davidson counted one to put H.B. on top and even the series with The Colonist. The only man on The Colonist side to play to form was J. R. Begg, but he got little support. The teams:

ENGLISH XI WINS EASILY

Tourists Defeat New Ontario's Best by 10 to Nil Score

GAME PLAYED IN THUNDERSTORM

FORT WILLIAM, June 3.—In a pelting rain, with lightning and thunder at intervals, the touring English football team defeated New Ontario's best by a score of ten to one. A crowd of 1,000 watched the contest from the shelter of the grandstand. The English players' control of the ball was remarkable, their placing accurate and their shots on goal like bullets.

The first half saw the New Ontario boys put up a rugged defence and the visitors at the half-way mark had notched but three goals. McClure, English right half-back injured his leg in the closing moments of the game and had to be carried off the field. Johnny Izatt scored the only New Ontario goal after a fine bit of play and with a deadly kick.

The Englishmen's goals were scored in the first half by Bowden and Cookson. The latter netting twice; and in the second half by Houghton, who scored three, Cookson, two more and O'Dowd and Alexander, one each.

Line-ups:

England—Goal, Tewksbury; backs, Jennings, Roughtong; half-backs, Oliver, O'Dowd, McClure; forwards, Alexander, Bowden, Cookson, Houghton and Barry.

New Ontario—Goal, D. Skinner; backs, J. Simpson, R. Murray; half-backs, T. McLaughlin, Roddy McKay, P. Young; forwards, M. Slater, J. Byars, J. Izatt, W. Murray and J. Sinclair.

OLYMPIC PROSPECT FOR CANADA FOUND IN EASTERN MEET

CORNWALL, June 3 (CP).—A new Olympic prospect for Canada loomed today in Ollie Holland, colored athlete of Hamilton, Ont., Central Collegiate, when he twice shattered the Dominion scholastic record for the broad jump at the gala interscholastic track and field meet here.

Leaping with little apparent effort in the preliminary trials, Holland bettered the old mark by seven full inches on his first jump of 21 feet 11 inches. On his second try, his powerful leg muscles rippling under his dark skin, he again topped the record with a jump of 23 feet 2 inches.

AUSTRALIA WILL GUARANTEE TILDEN $16,500 FOR TOUR

MELBOURNE, June 3 (AP).—The sum of £3,500, about $16,500, has been guaranteed Big Bill Tilden and his associates in a proposed tour of Australia by the Australian Lawn Tennis Association.

If Tilden comes alone, he would be guaranteed £2,500, about $11,500.

The Australian association believes the educational value of such a tour would repay the cost.

KING AND QUEEN SEE RACE

The King and Queen, the Prince of Wales and Price George, celebrating His Majesty's birthday, saw one of the finest renewals of the classic of classics that has been provided for many years.

Cameronian ran a magnificent race, his time being two minutes 36 3-5 seconds. The handsome thoroughbred seemed to read his jockey's mind like a human being, responding to every touch and giving all he had when he was called upon. He flung himself into the forefront at the start, raced nicely within easy reach of the pace-setters under close restraint, and hurtled forward past the pack like a streak of lightning when Fox decided the psychological moment had come.

The terrific uproar from the huge multitude and the shouts of the bookies died to an awe-inspiring silence as the twenty-five starters went to the barrier. A brief delay and then the roar of a regular Derby crowd—"They're off"—split the eardrums.

The primrose and blue of Gallini's jockey, the purple and flame of Grindleton's colors, and the black and white of Estate Duty raced to the front of the thundering pack. At the half-way mark Gallini still held a burning pace to keep in front, Cameronian, however, was racing comfortably in fifth position.

Rounding historic Tattenham Corner, where so many Derbies have been won and lost, another expectant silence stilled the mounting roar. Followers of the Aga Khan thought for a moment his Pomme d'Aple was coming through to take the leadership. Gallini, however, still continued to set a blazing pace, while Fox urged Cameronian up to third place behind Gallini and Armagnac. Orpen and Sandwich were also moving up at this point.

MAGNIFICENT EFFORT

As the field swung into the stretch, Gallini and Armagnac tired. Cameronian and Orpen went in front with Sandwich following close. Nearing the finish, Fox shook Cameronian up and his mount responded with the magnificent effort of a great sprinter who has stamina as well. He shot forward and easily shook off the menace of Orpen, who, though tiring, managed to keep Sandwich from second place. With the runner-up and third horses just lasting, Cameronian raced past the judge's stand with the race comfortably won, and probably, so far as Fox was concerned, never in doubt.

"I knew he would answer when he was called upon, and in the end he answered splendidly," the veteran rider said.

It was the first Derby victory for Fox, who was the leading jockey last year, and it was the first Derby victory for Mr. Dewar, who inherited the colt from the late Lord Dewar, an uncle.

It was Cameronian's second great turf victory, the colt having won the classic Two Thousand Guineas at Newmarket in April. Now he has a chance to set a still greater mark upon the pages of turf history by winning the mythical "triple crown"—the three open classics—the St. Leger, at Doncaster, in September, being the third of these historic events. Only thirteen horses have accomplished this feat.

IDEAL WEATHER

But the Derby was merely the climax to the day's carnival. The weather was quite fitting to the occasion today, early threat of rain vanishing under brilliant sunshine. Even after noon the immense stream of sightseers continued to pour on to the downs from every point of the compass, in every type of vehicle from the air liners that flew from Paris to the ancient horse-drawn vehicles that make their only appearance on Derby day.

The arrival of His Majesty and the Royal family was an impressive sight. It was the King's first attendance at the Derby since his illness two years ago. As the six motor cars carrying the party rolled into the enclosure the giant crowd rumbled a mighty cheer. The King appeared to be as thrilled by the race as those who had perhaps trudged miles across country for a fleeting glimpse of a blurred pack of horses.

Primitif was withdrawn just before the race, going lame after he was saddled.

THREE TIED FOR LEAD IN BRITISH OPEN GOLF

Cotton, Twine and Farrell Card 72's In Opening Round

Two Britishers and American Share Lead at End of First Eighteen at Carnoustie—Tommy Armour Stroke Behind Leaders—Six Bracketed in Third Position

Compston and Mitchell Turn in 77's

CARNOUSTIE, Scotland, June 3 (CP).—Discarded by the British Ryder Cup selectors because he declined to return to England with the team, Henry Cotton, young Langley Park professional golfer, continues to accentuate an interesting position in golfing feats, for after his great win at Southport against strong foreign challenges, especially those of the United States, he leads in the first round of the British Open tournament with another young Britisher, W. Twine, of Bromley, and Johnny Farrell, of the United States. Each completed the first round of medal play today with scores of 72.

Next in order comes Tommy Armour, the Scotsman who for ten years has been a professional in the United States. Armour had a 73. Gene Sarazen, who with Percy Allis and W. G. Oke had 74, created a sensation by doing the first nine holes in 33, but his amazing accuracy eluded him after the 13th hole. Cotton on the other hand played like a machine and had twelve fours at the start, which is probably a record sequence at the beginning of an open championship.

COTTON MISSES CHANCE

Cotton at the 18th had a chance to pass Farrell but after two great shots to the edge of the green he was short with a little chip and missed a three-yarder to get a birdie four, which would have put him in front of the American. Loud cheers greeted young Cotton's gallant effort and they were renewed late in the evening when Twine came up even with the leading pair for the biggest surprise of the tournament.

Twine at the third hole put a full mashie niblick shot stone dead and three at a four hole sent him cheerfully on his way. He not only drove at great length but also putted well.

Archie Compston, who is among the first six with 77, drove out of bounds at the ninth and also drove wildly on the last two holes. Abe Mitchell was also among the 77's. Ernest Whitcombe was in the eigth group with 79, while Charles Whitcombe, British Ryder Cup captain, was among the ninths with 80. John DeForest, amateur tournament finalist, was among the elevenths with 82.

PEARCE WINS SCULLS EVENT

Canadian Oarsman Captures 440-Yard Senior Race at Putney

FAVORITE TO WIN DIAMOND SCULLS

PUTNEY, Eng., June 3 (CP).—Bobby Pearce, giant Australian and Canadian sculler, won the 440-yard senior sculling championship yesterday, and seems in excellent form to annex the Diamond Sculls at Henley, Pearce had a comparatively easy time today, winning the first heat from E. Stephens, of London Rowing Club, a Diamond Sculls opponent, and then repeating in the final over C. Wise, also of the London club, who won the Wingfield Sculls in 1913. Pearce's time for both heats was 1 minute 20 seconds.

While Pearce is an overwhelming favorite for the Diamonds, the greatest German sporting invasion of England has commenced, and already one Diamonds challenger and four crackerjack clubs are en route. The last foreign entries list reveals that Germany isn't a bit afraid of Pearce's prowess. Edward Frankfurter, of the German Ruder Gesallschaft, will oppose Bobby in the big race. For the Grand Challenge Cup, several German clubs will meet Britain's best.

PICKS ALL-STAR TEAM

Sports Editor, Colonist:

Sir,—A few of us old-timers have been discussing the selection of a team to meet the Englishmen on June 24. We are of the opinion that it does not require trials to choose a team, but on the season's play we suggest the following team:

De Costa (goal), Crowe (right back), Leggett (left back), Nurse (right half), J. Hay (centre half), T. Smith (left half); Youson (right wing), Bunyan (inside right), Burns (centre forward), Wagland (inside left), Mulcahy (outside left).

What do other subscribers think?

Yours, for good football,

P. F. KINGSWOOD.

Dear Doctor,

My husband is madly in love with a Sea Lion (Lioness, I suppose), and I'm miserable. Every evening he takes her beer and sardine sandwiches, down by the seashore, and serenades her by the hour with seafaring ditties on his banjo. He has grown a tremendous, drooping moustache (just to be like his ridiculous lover), and has eaten nothing but raw fish for weeks.

Worse—he fills the bed with seaweed, kelp, barnacles, sea-slugs, lobsters, octopi and any other sea products he can carry up from the beach, just for atmosphere, and now contemplates furnishing an expensive mud flat for his infatuation, at low tide.

What can I do, Doctor? I love him dearly. I'm neglected and dejected.

Yours at low ebb,
Mrs. Mari N. Ostrum.

Dear Mrs. Ostrum,

Your husband cannot really be in love with the curious mammal you mention. It is just a passing whim—the polygamous instinct of the male for something new. He'll soon get over it. He really knows nothing of the social or moral codes of Sea Lionesses, and, although they are exceedingly attractive, I have reason to believe they love going off the deep end.

When he catches her doing this, he will realize he has been left on the rocks and that his love is just a floating fancy. (Dear, dear.)

I suggest you work up an affair with some affable, unattached Walrus. Show your husband you don't care. Be nonchalant—light a bonfire. A few Walrus hairs on your shoulder, and a few flipper prints 'round your waist will arouse your husband's suspicions and make him jealous. Then you have him, and Romance will start again. (You might also insist on your turn for atmosphere, and fill the bed with ice and Polar Bears.)

Yours frostily,
D.D.

Northrop Wins Senior Track and Field Title

Captures University School Championship With Five Firsts—Wilkinson and Martin Gain Honors—Large Crowd Attends Meet

Registering five firsts after a brilliant display, Northrop captured the senior track and field championship of the University School at the annual sports meet held yesterday afternoon at the Mount Tolmie grounds before a large crowd of spectators. Northrop was in rare form and raced home to the title with flying colors. Wilkinson walked off with the intermediate laurels, while Martin breezed through to the junior championship.

Breasting the tape a scant few inches in front of Leggat, Northrop captured the 220-yard event after a close race from start to finish. Northrop got away fast with the gun and raced to the finishing line with a great burst of speed. Hager was a close third. In the century dash, Northrop again flashed to the tape with Leggat in second place and Mackid in third position. Northrop completed his winning streak by capturing the high jump and throwing the cricket ball.

Although they were pressed in the various events they competed in, Wilkinson and Martin came through in the intermediate and junior championships in spectacular style. Following the meet, Brigadier J. Sutherland Brown presented the trophies and other awards to the winners.

STRIKERS REPLACED ON FOLLOWING DAY

KETCHIKAN, Alaska, June 3 (AP).—Employees of the New England Fish Company storage plant, who walked out yesterday demanding reinstatement of the 1930 wage scale, were replaced by new men today.

Only a few of the former employees returned to work. The men's wage scale this year ranges from $4.50 to $6 daily. In addition to last year's wages a revised overtime bonus payment was asked. The management said the strikers could be easily replaced from the unemployed here.

Elks Continue March Towards Pennant in Senior Amateur Ball

Down Tillicums by 11-7 Score in Free-Hitting Battle —Webster Goes Route for Winners—Steele Assists Elks With Five Errors

Manager Walter Lorimer and his Elks ball nine continued their march towards Pennantville in the Senior Amateur Baseball League last night, at the Royal Athletic Park, by handing the Tillicums an 11-7 setback in a free-hitting battle. The losers were ten runs down at the end of the third inning, and staged several rallies in an effort to catch the antlered crew, but failed. Another large crowd turned out to watch the squads battle.

The Elks started scoring early in the game and then coasted to victory on their large lead. During the first two frames, Pat Steele, Tillicums' first sacker, aided the Elks by contributing five errors. He was yanked in the third and Art Barry replaced him. Doc Webster went the route for the winners and was hit freely, while Leo Holden pitched a good game for the Tillicums, but was given poor support by his teammates.

DUNN STARTS TROUBLE

Marty Dunn started the fireworks in the initial inning by doubling to centrefield. Minnis reached first when Steele dropped D'Arcy's perfect throw. Morgan walked and Cummins doubled through short to score Dunn and Minnis. McKenzie filed to left field and Morgan came home on the hit. Belcher's fly got away from Holden and McKenzie raced across the plate when Bowden got a life on Steele's miscue. Webster walked and Dunn filed to D'Arcy for the third out.

The Elks scored three more in the second. Steele continued to weaken his fielding average in this stanza with two more errors. Dunn and Minnis checked home in the third on a wild throw by Monteski and Steele's fifth error. Cummins gave the Elks their 10-0 lead by scoring from second on another single.

The Tillicums came to life in the fourth inning when Robinson and Emeri scored on Bates' long double to centrefield. In the fifth the Tillicums continued their heavy hitting by sending four runners across the plate. Bergerson tallied on singles by Robinson and Stickney, and Emeri tripled to right field to score the latter pair. Webster walked Holden with the bases loaded, forcing home Emeri from third.

From then on to the finish, the Tillicums tried to overcome the Elks' lead, but they failed.

Association Favors Subsidies for All Canadian Shipping

Believing Financial Assistance Is Necessary for Maintenance of a Merchant Marine, Manufacturers, in Session Here, Approve Resolution

Government subsidies to both Government-owned and private steamships was approved at the annual meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, which concluded here yesterday, as desirable in the interests of Canadian export trade.

Some criticism of the resolution was offered by individual delegates on the grounds that it did not appear to be consistent with a previous resolution calling upon Governments to curtail expenditures. It was explained, however, that the matter of the resolution could not be deferred and should be considered as an investment rather than an expenditure.

Ship subsidies, while not altogether new, now have the official endorsation of the association. Subsidies are being paid at the present time in the form of mail services and, in so far as Government-owned ships are concerned, the deficits annually, become subsidies.

TEXT OF RESOLUTION

The following is the text of the resolution:

"Whereas, the continuation and extension of direct steamship service from Canadian ports to various countries overseas is desirable in the interests of Canadian export trade, and

"Whereas, the principle of Government aid for steamship service has been adopted in a number of countries competing with Canada in export markets, and

"Whereas, the amount of aid given by Canada is, at present, considerably less proportionately than that granted by some of these countries, and

"Whereas, under present trade conditions it is essential that Canadian export trade be maintained in order to provide employment and to dispose of surplus goods;

"Therefore: be it resolved that the Canadian Manufacturers' Association in annual general meeting assembled in Victoria, recommend that a plan be established for granting reasonable Government subsidies to both private and Government-owned steamships, in order to continue trade promotion in foreign markets, and to maintain and extend Canadian trade in more established markets."

SUMMER SERVICE STARTS SATURDAY

Sailing Dates for Canadian National Steamers On Northern Runs Set for 1931 Season

The Summer service of the Canadian National Steamships will go into effect on the Pacific Coast on Saturday, June 6, according to an announcement by Colonel J. C. Brown, Pacific Coast steamship manager for the company, in a statement issued yesterday. This service marks the resumption of the Summer service from the Port of Vancouver to Alaskan ports, including Ketchikan, Wrangell, Juneau and Skagway, with an additional service to Prince Rupert, Stewart and Anyox. The departure times for all Northern ships will be 10 o'clock in the evening from the new Canadian National pier at the foot of Main Street, Vancouver.

Every Monday evening a ship will sail for Alaska, with calls at Powell River, Ocean Falls and Prince Rupert, the steamships Prince Rupert and Prince George alternating each week. Every Wednesday evening one of these two ships will sail for Prince Rupert, Anyox and Stewart, calling at Powell River and Ocean Falls.

Every Thursday evening, commencing June 1, the new liner Ss. Prince Henry will sail for Prince Rupert and Alaska, calling at Powell River and Ocean Falls northbound.

Ss. Prince Charles will operate from Vancouver every Saturday to Prince Rupert, Anyox, Stewart and Massett Inlet ports. Ss. Prince John will operate a fortnightly service from Vancouver to South Queen Charlotte Island ports and Prince Rupert. In the case of the Ss. Prince John, her departure from Vancouver will be 4 o'clock every other other Saturday evening, commencing June 13. Ss. Prince William will not be placed in service this season. This Summer schedule will remain in effect until August 31, when the Fall schedule will be inaugurated.

Air Pageant to Leave Hamilton on Dominion Day

KINGSTON, June 3 (CP). — The Dominion's great transcanada air pageant will begin on July 1, when more than fifty planes will leave Hamilton to commence the 7,700-mile air tour of Canada, and will wind up at the Toronto Canadian National Exhibition, according to official announcement today by Marshal M. Foss, publicity and show manager of the air pageant, sponsored by the Canadian Flying Club Association.

The official itinerary as announced by Mr. Foss gives July 20 as the date on which the armada will reach Vancouver via Grand Forks.

Last Word in Propellers

THIS is the only propeller of its kind, except for the models tested on small craft, and it is to be given a trial on the Canadian National Railways' Canada-West Indies freighter Cornwallis. This propeller has been invented by an anonymous naval officer in the hope that it will do away with vibration—one of the causes of loss of speed.

NOVEL HUNT IS PLANNED

Small Sloop to Invade Alaskan Waters in Search of Whales

MAMMALS WILL BE SHOT WITH CAMERA

Captain Ralph (Matt) Peasley, one of the most romantic sailormen of the ocean routes, is going to sea again. He is not heading for distant climes in a prosaic lumber schooner as he has done in the former days of his colorful career, but will set out from Seattle on July 1, with a whaling expedition with a modern flavor, bound for Alaskan waters.

In past years this port has witnessed sturdy steam "killer boats" sail away for the northern whaling grounds for a harvest of oil, bone and fertilizer. However, the expedition of Captain Peasely, hero of Peter B. Kyne's stories of the sea, will join is of a different sort. Its members are not the least bit interested in whale oil, whale bone or fertilizer. They are going to hunt whales with a camera and not a harpoon gun.

The "cargo" they hope to bring back will consist of reels of motion pictures and still photographs of the playful finbacks enjoying themselves in their native haunts.

A whaling ship of a different sort is being outfitted on Lake Washington for the cruise. She is the forty-five-foot auxillary sloop Linda, equipped with a fifty-horsepower engine.

The expedition is being organized by P. W. Schmoe, naturalist of the Puget Sound Academy of Science. Captain Peasley will be the master of the Linda. Her crew will consist of a group of young scientists, including Samuel Harby, of Columbia University, New York City; Henry Lohse, a student at the Lakeside School; Francis Holman, a student at Garfield High School; Leonard Jones, who is attending the State Normal School at Bellingham, and H. L. Seeger, an instructor at Lakeside School.

The expedition will collect specimens of life in Alaska for the State Museum, with which Mr. Schmoe is associated. The whale pictures will be taken between Glacier Bay and Mount Fairweather.

Captain Peasley, who formerly commanded the schooner yacht Sanwan, owned by Frank Moran, left the vessel in Santa Barbara. He has had an interesting career. In addition to being a navigator known in every harbor on the Pacific Coast, he is a woodsman, hunter and fisherman.

Captain Peasley is a tall, robust figure with the twinkle of the old-time sailorman in his eye. He was born in Eastport, Me., and first came to the Pacific Coast in 1888. His early boyhood was spent at sea, mostly along the rugged coast of Maine.

SAILING SCHOONER TO CARRY LUMBER

ABERDEEN, June 3 (AP).—The five-masted sailing schooner Vigilant, idle here for fifteen months, is being prepared to re-enter the Hawaiian lumber trade under Capt. Charles Mellberg, of San Francisco. She, formerly was commanded by Capt. Ralph (Matt) Peasley, operating between the Northwest and Honolulu. Once more in service, she will be one of two and possibly three windjammers operating from this coast. The vessel will load a full lumber cargo in Tacoma starting early in July. Her crew will arrive here this week from San Francisco.

Captain Dollar Much Improved; Takes Car Ride

SAN RAFAEL, June 3 (AP).—Capt. Robert Dollar, shipping magnate, who has been ill at his home here for several weeks, was so much improved today that he went for an automobile ride, his first since he became ill.

Arctic Patrol Ship Boethic Will Sail North Late in July

Experience Gained on Former Voyages Responsible for New Arrangements—Ship Will Visit Far North Points and Replenish Caches

The Department of the Interior's annual expedition to the posts in the Canadian Arctic archipelago will sail from North Sydney, Nova Scotia, on board the Ss. Boethic towards the end of July. Since 1925 the date of departure of this annual patrol by officers of the Northwest territories and Yukon branch has been gradually moved back until, as a result of last season's experience, the end of July is considered the best time for the purpose of the work of the expedition.

The same itinerary as last year will be followed, with the first call being made at Godhavyn, Greenland, for an exchange of courtesies with the Danish Government authorities at that port. The ship will then be headed north along the Greenland coast for the farthest north post of Bache Peninsula on Ellesmere Island. By this change of route much time is saved and the dangerous middle ice pack at Baffin Bay is avoided.

On the return trip the first stop will be made at Dundas Harbor, Devon Island. After completing the work at this point the Boethic will turn westward up Lancaster Sound to again attempt to reach Winter Harbor, Melville Island, to reprovision the cache established at that point by the 1908-09 expedition. Caches will also be laid down during this part of the voyage at Beechey Island, off the southwest coast of Devon Island, and at Cape Cockburn, Bathurst Island. These will be for the use of Royal Canadian Mounted Police patrols or others traveling in that area.

Returning eastward to Baffin Bay the ship will call at Pond Inlet, River Clyde, Pangnirtung and Lake Harbor, Baffin Island; Chesterfield, Hudson Bay and Fort Burnwell, Hudson Strait, in the order named. Supplies will be landed and changes of personnel will be effected at these various posts.

Dr. H. A. Stuart, who for the past two years has been medical officer on Baffin Island with headquarters at Pangnirtung, will return south with the ship, Dr. L. D. Livingstone replacing him.

MASTER LEAVES HARVARD WRECK

Rough Seas Interfere With Salvage Work—Situation Considered Serious

LOS ANGELES, June 3 (AP).—Salvage operations at the grounded coastal liner Harvard were halted today by rough seas, and for the first time since the $1,250,000 vessel struck the reef at Point Arguello, with 497 passengers aboard, last Saturday, Captain Louis B. Hillsinger left the ship.

"Too rough for work today," said a radio message from R. S. Gardner, salvage master, to the Merritt, Chapman & Scott Salvage Company, at San Pedro.

"Ship settling deeper. Two feet of water on main deck at low tide. Very serious."

Announcement that Captain Hillsinger had left the ship was accompanied by the explanation that the Harvard is not considered abandoned under salvage rules, since the captain, his first mate, a radio operator and the engineer are aboard a cutter standing by the wreck.

Redd—I see Browne's got a motor car.

Green—Yes, his rich uncle gave it to him.

Redd—Why, he told me he put all the money he had into it.

Green—So he did. He bought two gallons of gasoline for it.

Deep Seal Roar To Be Recorded On Sound Reels

SEATTLE, June 3 (AP).—Two news reel cameramen will leave here tomorrow, aboard the liner Victoria, to spend the Summer in Alaska, taking the first sound news pictures in the territory. The photographers, Eric Mayell and C. E. Darling, will record the roar of the seals on the Pribilof Islands, the sound of herds of stampeded reindeer and scenes in the North's famous gold camps. Indian life will also be filmed.

Stocks Jump to Average Gain of 7.3 Points Net

NEW YORK, June 3 (AP).—Stocks leapt out of the depths of despair today, celebrating their release with the strongest rally in the year.

The average gain of 7.3 points had not been equaled since June 19, 1930, when the standard statistics—Associated Press composite—advanced 7.4 points in one of those automatic rebounds that follows a period of intense depression. Sales totaled 3,300,000 shares.

The decline had been in progress with little respite since the February peak was reached. In such a situation a piece of favorable news inevitably brings a sharp reversal of trend, and there were at least two such developments today. One was withdrawal of Government opposition to the Standard Oil of New York Vacuum Union. The second was a reduction in margain demands by leading banks.

Wall Street interpreted the oil news to mean that Washington did not intend to oppose, at least within reasonable limits, economic business mergers.

The decision to reduce margain demands to 20 per cent from 25 per cent was taken to mean that the banks believed stock quotations had reached a conservative level for collateral purposes.

Many stocks gained 5 to 6 points net. Among them were U.S. Steel, Consolidated Gas, New York Central, American Can, Dupont, National Biscuit, Public Service of New Jersey and American Tobacco. B. Woolworth, North American, General Motors, General Electric, Loew's, Baltimore & Ohio, Pennsylvania, Canadian Pacific, Sears-Roebuck and many others were up 3 to 4. American Telephone advanced more than 7. Union Pacific soared 8. The highest score of the day went to Auburn, with a 42-point climb.

Most foreign exchanges sagged, although the Spanish peseta continued strong.

The bond market staged a rally during the second half of the session, and closing levels among the active issues were irregularly higher.

FARM BOARD NOT BUYING

Support Withdrawn From U.S. Wheat Market as New Crop Comes Out

GENERAL RAINS FALL ON CANADIAN PRAIRIE

CHICAGO, June 3.—Reports of the withdrawal of the Farm Board Agency from the cash markets today was followed by drastic declines in the June deliveries, especially in the Northwest. Chicago June wheat did not drop as much as in the Northwest, but at one time was off 5 1-2 cents.

Chairman Stone of the Farm Board was quotoed in a Washington message as saying it was true the stabilization corporation had withdrawn from the buying of cash wheat. Reasons for the discontinuance of support are that new wheat is moving in the Southwest, he said. Commitments were to support cash prices only until the new crops started moving.

The Stabilization Corporation has announced that up until July 1 it has promised not to sell its holdings of wheat except at a schedule of prices made public some time ago by General Manager Milnor of the Stabilization Corporation. This price would be around 85 cents for the basic grade at the present time.

There was little, if any, business in cash wheat here today, and no one could tell what the spot basis on contract grades of wheat would be. Cables from Liverpool were 1 lower, Buenos Aires off 3-8 at midday.

Rains or showers were fairly general in Canada, but were mostly too light to be of more than temporary help, while the forecast was for clearing conditions and mostly fair weather indicated. The Canadian official crop report, as well as private reports, indicate a critical condition in the wheat crop.

Dunning Announces Canada Power and Paper Corp'n Plan

MONTREAL, June 3 (CP).—Hon. Charles A. Dunning, chairman of the Securities Protective Committee of the Canada Power & Paper Corporation, and acting on behalf of that body, made public today the plan of capital reorganization for the company, which ranks as one of the largest producers of newsprint paper in the world. Apart from 30,000 to 25,000 holders of securities of the corporation and its constituent companies, a broad interest centres in the situation, because, in a successful cleaning up of its present difficulties, is envisaged a most constructive step in the rehabilitation of the newsprint field as a whole.

CONSTITUENT COMPANIES

The plan concerns holders of the securities and shares of the Canada Power & Paper Corporation and the following constituent companies of the corporation: Anticosti Corporation, Belgo-Canadian Paper Company, Port Alfred Pulp & Paper Corporation, St. Maurice Valley Corporation and the Wayagamack Pulp & Paper Company, but does not include Anglo-Canadian, which company is not included in the scheme of reorganization proposed by the committee.

THE PLAN OUTLINED

Briefly the plan calls for the formation of a new company, with a capitalization of first mortgage bonds (including first mortgage sterling debenture stock) and one class of shares, which will take over the undertakings and assets of the above named companies. The new bonds and debenture stock will be on an income basis for five years, and the new securities will be made available for exchange for the existing securities. No new money is being asked for.

PROPOSED CAPITALIZATION

Authorized capitalization of the new company will, under the plan set forth, consist of $100,000,000 first mortgage bonds, including first mortgage sterling debenture stock, and 2,000,000 shares without par value. Of the bonds $65,000,000 will be authorized for immediate issue as thirty-year 5½ per cent bonds and sterling debenture stock, which will be on an income basis for five years, but will bear fixed interest thereafter.

All Canadian Stock Markets Close for Day

Manufacturers Urged To Concentrate Upon Greater Sales Effort

CHICAGO, June 3.—"I believe we have reached the bottom of the business depression and have passed it," said H. W. Phelps, president of American Can Co., before a meeting of Chicago Association of Commerce.

"As soon as manufacturers stop selling their products at prices below cost of production or replacement and begin to demand prices which will net a return, I believe business generally will receive a substantial stimulus."

"As long as low prices prevail people will hesitate to buy in belief that still lower prices may be reached," he said.

"Manufacturers should concentrate on overcoming under-consumption rather than overproduction by maintaining production and increasing consumption through greater sales effort, larger profits can be obtained which is not the case when product on is cut to meet a buyers market."

U.S. Cash Wheat Prices Slump

MINNEAPODIS, June 3 (AP).—Prices for June futures and cash wheat dropped 13 1-2 cents in the first hour of trading, but rallied later 5 cents on the Minneapolis wheat market today. The slump was credited to removal of buying support by the Federal Farm Board Agency.

No International Silver Conference

SALT LAKE CITY, June 3.—A telegram from President Hoover says:

"I am now able to inform you that informal discussions among nations, some of whose participation is vitally necessary, develop the fact that they do not consider this a proper time to call an international conference on silver and would oppose holding such a conference."

MISSING MAN'S BODY IS FOUND

Discovery Is Made in Woods About Half a Mile South of Campbell River

CAMPBELL RIVER, June 3.—The body of Gus Johnson, better known as "California Gus," was found on Sunday about half a mile out in the woods, south of the wharf, by W. McNeil.

The appearance of the body indicates that death occurred about a week or ten days before it was found. At present the circumstances of his death are unknown.

Previous to the discovery of the body some of his friends motored to Union Bay to inquire at the logging camps if he had applied for work there, as he had been missing for about a week.

Luxton Hall Committee Holds Annual Meeting

LUXTON, June 3.—The annual meeting of the Luxton hall committee was held at Luxton Hall on Monday evening. The annual report showed all accounts paid and a substantial balance still in the bank. The new committee appointed is Mr. Hutchison, Mrs. Heath and Mr. Norman Rhode. A vote of thanks to the retiring committee was given for its good work during the past year.

After a lengthy discussion concerning extensive alterations it was decided to call a general meeting shortly.

A vote of thanks was given to the members of the Athletic Club, which had only been in existence for two months, but had helped the hall expenses considerably.

Cumberland Sports

CUMBERLAND, June 3.—The Cumberland Lawn Bowling Club opened the season at the week-end when Lieut.-Col. C. W. Villiers and Dr. G. K. MacNaughton, M.L.A., bowled the first balls, the colonel afterwards declaring the green open for season 1931. The club will send teams to play at Powell River, Nanaimo and Victoria and it is possible that one or two entries from the Cumberland Club will be sent in for the Pearce Cup, singles competition, which is held in Victoria.

In a one-sided baseball game, the Courtenay nine easily defeated the Happy Valley players in a Cumberland and District. Twilight League game, the score being 11 runs to 3. Following the league game, the Athletics, of Cumberland, engaged in an exhibition game against Fanny Bay Japanese, the former winning by 9 runs to 0.

Wharf Constructed

NANAIMO, June 3.—The crew of the piledriver McGary No. 2 has completed the construction of the C.P.R. wharf on Newcastle Island and are now working on the laying of a four-inch water main across Exit Channel, between the Townsite and the Island.

Robinson—Was it successful, engaging that ex-burglar as your chauffeur?

Smithers — Rather! I've never found a fingerprint on the car yet. —London Humorist.

NANAIMO FORMS MOSQUITO CLUB

Traditional Name Is Revived by Basketball Organization—Officers Elected

NANAIMO, June 3.—At a meeting held in the Canadian Legion gymnasium a basketball club was formed, and reviving an old traditional name in Nanaimo, it was called the Mosquito Club.

It is the intention of the club to handle only junior and intermediate teams, and to fit the old gymnasium up with rings, trapeze and punching bags, as time goes on. At present there are about twenty boys enrolled and a girls' group is to be organized.

The main idea of the organization is to provide a means of training boys in a certain style of ball and keep them stepping up into the different divisions as they become old enough. In that way by the time the boys are ready to play senior they should be able to hold their own in any company.

The officers elected were: President, Wilf Cain; vice-presidents, W. Culligan, Leo LePas, Joe Cottle; secretary, Fred Robinson; treasurer, Noel Filmer; club captain, J. McDougal; vice-captain, J. Naylor; junior team captain, W. Jones; club equipment, T. McEwan; building committee, Rafter, Hastings, Holt and J. Squire; social committee, H. Fraser, G. Emerick, T. McEwan and J. Houston; transportation committee, N. Filmer, Alvin Brown, Jack Naylor and E. Parrott; coach and manager intermediate "B" boys, Wilf Cain; coach and manager girls, W. Culligan; coach junior boys, J. Naylor.

Nanaimo Council Receives Reports

NANAIMO, June 3.—At the regular meeting of the local Council on Monday evening a letter was received from the secretary of the Joint Unemployed Committee, James Sloan, who condemned the action of the City Council in not asking the unemployed to meet Hon. J. W. Jones, Minister of Finance, and Hon. R. W. Bruhn, Minister of Public Works, when the ministers addressed the members of the council. On motion, the communication was filed.

A report from the sanitary committee that a portion of the Cat Stream outside the city limits be deepened and cleaned at an estimated cost of $200, unanimously carried.

John Freer's tender, the lowest submitted for the erecting of a fence in the public cemetery, was accepted. His cost is $187.

Fire Chief Parkin reported five fires for the month of May, and the total amount of damage amounted to $32.50.

Public Works Manager Shepherd reported that $652.27 was spent on streets during the past week, and $144.60 on waterworks during the same period.

REPORT SOUNDS WARNING NOTE

Courtenay City Council Advised of Need for Enlarged Reservoir

COURTENAY, June 3.—A warning note was sounded at the City Council meeting on Monday night when the report of the water committee informed the city fathers that unless steps were taken in the near future to provide for a larger capacity from the source of supply there might be a shortage to consumers during the hot weather. That there is an abundance of water available is shown by the report which gave nine inches running over the spillway at the intake. The booster pump installed last year has been brought into use; but the capacity of the reservoir is quite inadequate to store a sufficient quantity of water to provide for the peak hours of consumption.

WAY OUT SUGGESTED

In answer to a question from Alderman Robson, the Mayor assured him that in case of fire in the city both the Comox and Royston pipe lines would be shut off, thus insuring an adequate quantity and pressure in town. A tour of inspection of the pipe lines had revealed some minor defects which had been quickly rectified. The reservoir had been cleaned out and new consumers connected to the city service. Alderman Bell, chairman of the water committee admitted that they might "get by" by disallowing the use of garden sprinklers during the day time.

A deputation from the local assembly of Native Sons, consisting of J. W. McKenkle, Jr., and J. D. Piket, asked for a grant towards the first of July sports meet. They were granted a hundred dollars and the free use of the Lewis Park for the day.

GOOD WORK DONE

The report of the works committee showed a considerable amount of work done since the previous meeting of the council. This included the opening up of the Puntledge Park which was reported to be very satisfactory. An experiment in destroying weeds and willows with liquid weed killer had proved most successful. The Better Housing contracts were reported as being in a very healthy condition.

The totem poles at the entrance to Lewis Park are to be renovated and painted. Tenders will be called for this work and the awarding of the contract was left in the hands of Alderman Wallis. Revising by-laws occupied the attention of the council until a late hour.

Banquet Follows Institute Meeting

QUALICUM BEACH, June 3.—The Qualicum District Farmers' Institute held its monthly meeting on Monday. The meeting was followed by a banquet. The conveners, Mrs. C. Fornter, Mrs. and Mr. G. Maul and Mrs. Waldie are to be congratulated on the success of the event. Mrs. F. Gillam led the community singing and the Morrison Orchestra provided the music for dancing. Old-time dances were much enjoyed by the old-timers.

Duncan Board Seeks Protection of Trout

DUNCAN, June 3.—At a meeting of the resolutions committee of the Duncan Chamber of Commerce held here Monday night, it was decided to submit two resolutions for consideration by the Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island at their annual convention which will be held here next month. The first resolution will urge upon the Dominion Government the advisability of amending the Criminal Code so as to permit sweepstakes and lotteries in Canada under strict Government control. The second resolution will ask that Dr. Tolmie and the Attorney-General be asked to take up at Ottawa, and to impress upon that Government to take energetic steps to save the remnants of our Vancouver Island trout from extermination, and to ask for the introduction of brown trout and Atlantic salmon in the waters of the Island.

OBITUARY

Chester Wilson McNeill, aged forty-one, a former resident of Parksville, died on Saturday morning at his home, 3550 York Street, Vancouver. The deceased was a native of Calgary, was wounded overseas during the great war while serving as a gunner in the Royal Canadian Garrison Artillery. He is survived by his mother and sister, Mrs. C. N. T. Carnsew, both of Vancouver. A brother, Donald Verne McNeill, of Terrace, also survives. The funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon, the Rev. E. B. Arrol officiating. The following acted as pallbearers: Messrs. G. J. Forbes, J. E. Kingsley, A. S. Barfoot, A. Constantine, R. C. Weld, A. Rheumer. The interment took place in Parksville Presbyterian Cemetery.

The funeral of the late L. G. Hill took place from the Calvary Baptist Church, Chemainus, Monday afternoon, Rev. Mr. Mayze, of Vancouver, conducting the service, assisted by Rev. Howard Plummer and Rev. E. O. Robathan. The church which had been beautifully arranged with flowers, was filled to capacity. Two hymns were sung, "Our Blest Redeemer" and "Goodnight." A. E. Craig sang "The Silver Chord Is Broken." Interment was in the family plot in Chemainus Cemetery, where Rev. Mr. Mayze read the service and the choir sang "There Is a Land That Is Fairer Than Day." A very large congregation gathered at the cemetery. The pallbearers were C. Smith, D. A. Gatus, J. Patterson, H. R. Smiley and Peerless. There were no flowers, by request, with the exception of several beautiful wreaths from direct members of the family.

Born in Sidney, Cape Breton, about 1864, Mr. Hill came to Vancouver Island in 1888, having married Miss Robinson, of Saint John, N.B., who predeceased him seven years ago. Mr. Hill had resided in Chemainus about forty years, during which time he worked indefatigably for the Baptist Church, and endeared himself to all who knew him. In 1925 Mr. Hill married Mrs. Louise Batten, of Saltair. His only daughter, Mrs. Colin McInnis, survives him and also three grandchildren.

"It is no use protesting," said the magistrate. "There are two witnesses who saw you steal the pig."

"I can bring twenty who didn't see me," replied Pat.

P. R. LEIGHTON IS PRESIDENT

Elected Head of St. Mary's Scout and Pack Committee at Annual Meeting

P. R. Leighton was elected president of the St. Mary's Scout and Pack Committee at the annual general meeting, held recently in the scout hall, Granite Street, Oak Bay. T. C. Barlsoop was named vice-president and R. Gornall, secretary.

The meeting was well attended and received favorable reports of the president and secretary. A report of the activities of the troop during the past year was given by Scoutmaster Forrester, who, displayed the work which the troop had done around the building.

Cubmistress D. Hilliard outlined the year's work of the wolf cub pack and told of plans for the future.

After hearing these reports, the meeting resolved into discussion of the garden fete to be held on Saturday at the Oak Bay Scouts' Headquarters, Granite Street, behind the old Oak Bay High School, at 3 o'clock. The committees for the various games to be performed were elected.

"BLARNEY"

"The dictionary defines "blarney" as "language which is meant to be neither honest nor true." Nevertheless, practically all of have at some time or other permitted ourselves this indulgence in the form of a more or less subtle compliment.

We get the word "blarney" from the Blarney Stone, which, for many years, was at Blarney Castle, in the Village of Blarney—Ireland, of course—about four miles from Cork.

It is an Irish legend that the kissing of this stone endows one with the gift of coaxing, wheedling and flattering.

The true stone was first set into a wall where it could be kissed only by a person held over a parapet.

Many years ago, a madman made his way to the top of the castle, and, after dancing around the Blarney Stone for some hours, his escape from death being almost miraculous, he flung this stone from the tower.

It was broke in the fall, and now, as the guide will tell you, the "three halves" must receive three distinct kisses to be in any degree effective!
